

LAST CALL FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Bills, Not Paid Tomorrow, to Bear Interest Dating Back to October

Largest Sum in History of City Now Due From Property Owners

The last call for the payment of taxes on real estate in Lowell, before the property becomes legally subject to sale for non-payment of municipal charges, comes tomorrow. Persons who have failed to step up to the long counter in the city treasurer's office and pass over the cash required to liquidate their tax bills, will not only render their property liable to be advertised for sale, but they will have subjected themselves to the necessity of paying eight per cent. on their bills; the interest dating from October 15, last year.

The amount of taxes unpaid at this time exceeds all records in the history of the city. Wednesday night the amount was $294,315, and it would have been much larger but for the receipt during the day of one payment.

MINING TOWN IN FLAMES

Appeal for Outside Help After 13 Buildings Are Destroyed at Madera, Pa.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Jan. 14.—Fires believed to have been of incendiary origin raged at Madera, near here today. After 13 buildings had been destroyed with an estimated cost of $100,000, men were called from other towns.

Firemen reported that just before the fire was discovered they saw two men running from one building, which soon afterward burst into flames. Madera is a thriving town in the Mazonium coal district.

FINED FOR CARRYING DANGEROUS WEAPONS

Arthur J. Beauregard, charged with carrying a loaded pistol, and Walter Allen, charged with carrying a dagger, both of Pawtucket, R. I., were fined $100 each today in court for carrying dangerous weapons.

Beauregard admitted that he carried 25 for the automatic which he paid only a short time before being arrested. One hundred dollars is the minimum fine for carrying dangerous weapons without a permit.

COSTLY TO BE MAYOR

Thompson Says His Expenses Have Been Greater Than His Salary

Being mayor of Lowell is no job for a poor man, according to a statement made by Mayor Perry D. Thompson today. He says that the expenses connected with maintaining the standing and dignity of the office are so large that it keeps a chief executive scratching to make both ends meet. In his own case, the mayor says, he has spent more money during his term of office than he has received from the city. An inference from the mayor's remarks is that while the honors of his office may be well worth having, the cash emoluments are lacking.

The mayor's statement was made when he was questioned regarding his alleged recent "take-back-your-gold-forsure" act staged before a group of nurses of the health department in which, it is reported, he said that he would not take a $2000 addition to his salary provided for in a bill "now before the legislature."

The mayor said today that there is no bill of the kind before the general court; or at least that he was not aware that there is. He said, however, that he had heard that some of his friends, or possibly public spirited citizens, who appreciate the fact that the occupant of the mayor's office is not now receiving proper compensation, were talking of introducing such a bill.

The mayor of Lowell is one of the poorest paid municipal chief executives in the state, Mr. Thompson asserts. He says that a couple of years ago bills were introduced in the legislature raising the pay of the mayors of many other cities. Most of these were passed; some of them subject to approval on a referendum to the voters.

About that time, according to the mayor, a bill was introduced to increase the pay of the mayor of Lowell, but he made no effort to have it passed and it met its death at the hands of a committee.

Although there is no bill before the legislature to increase the mayor's salary this year, and no information seems to be available about anyone's intending to introduce one, Mr. Thompson says that he would not take a salary increase if it were given to him. He says that economic conditions are not such as to justify such an increase, and that he prefers to keep on digging to keep the wolf from the door with the rest of the people.

The fact that he would not take an increase in pay at this time does not alter the mayor's opinion that there should be a much larger salary attached to the office. He thinks the pay should not be lower than that of subordinate city officials.

1500 KILLED IN BATTLE

Severe Fighting Between Bedouins and Druses in Syria

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Severe fighting between Bedouins and Druses in Syria is reported in a Cairo despatch. The Druses are said to have lost 1500 killed, but it is asserted the remnants of their forces are preparing for a counter offensive.

The Bedouins are one of the nomadic Arab tribes inhabiting Syria, Arabia and northern Africa. The Druses inhabit the ranges of Lebanon and have for 800 years maintained their independence. This race is warlike and for the most part, adhere to a peculiar religious belief which combines the doctrines of the Old Testament, the Christian gospel, the Koran and other faiths of the East.

TYNGSBORO MAN FINED FOR KEEPING LIQUOR

In police court today Winfield Strout of Tyngsboro was found guilty of illegal keeping of whiskey by Judge Enright and fined $150. Constable Holt of Tyngsboro recommended that the fine be imposed. The liquor, including many bottles of Old Taylor, Granddaddy and other "ancient" brands, was forfeited.

Strout was summoned to appear in court this morning as a result of a quiet raid on his home about 10.30 o'clock last night by Officers Clarke, Winn, Moore, Conney and John Lynch of the local department and Constables Harry F. Holt, James H. Gotham, and Harold E. Hunter of Tyngsboro. The value of the liquor was placed close to $1000.

The whiskey was in bottles packed in suitcases. A considerable quantity of alcohol was contained in the suitcases and about 1000 empty bottles were found in the dwelling.

It is understood that the Strout home has been under the surveillance of the Tyngsboro police for some time, because of suspicion that a liquor traffic was being carried on. Plans for the raid were made in advance and the Tyngsboro and Lowell officers, in separate automobiles, met at the same time at the home and immediately surrounded it. The liquor was found in a room off the kitchen. Strout claimed that the liquor was left with him by some men. He refused to reveal their names.

USING TRACK SWEEPERS

The big street railway track sweepers were put to work early this morning prepared to prevent any delay in car service caused by the snow storm.

When they were run on all the lines throughout the city, it became necessary to take off a few cars and as a result the traffic was held up for a few hours. The snow was piled up on the tracks and the street cars were delayed. Towards noon time, however, the schedules were righted again.

TELLS OF MURDER OF IRISH PRIESTS

Churches and Clergymen Object of British Outrages, Says O'Callaghan

Declares Fr. Griffin Killed Because of Receiving Invitation to Testify Here

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Catholic churches, convents, parochial schools and priests themselves are objects of constant outrages by British crown forces in Ireland, Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, declared today in continuing his statement before the commission of the committee of 100 investigating conditions in Ireland.

Father Griffin of Galway, he declared, had been killed "undoubtedly because he was known to have received an invitation from the American commission investigating Irish conditions, to come here to give testimony."

Father MacSwiney of Cork, he said, was taken from a tramcar on Dec. 18, and ordered to write: "To hell with the pope." Refusing, the lord mayor added, the priest was practically stripped of his clothing and then beaten.

Experts Endorse Socket-Fit Shoes

The National Y.W.C.A. in the interest of better health and comfort for women has recently made an exhaustive study of correct footwear and has found that the principles embodied in SOCKET-FIT shoes produce the most beneficial results.

These shoes fit and support the feet correctly and distribute the weight naturally so that there is no undue pressure on any part of the foot.

They are good looking as well as correct, and are very comfortable.

JAPAN TO MAKE REPARATION

Japanese Government to Prevent Repetition of Langdon Case

State Department Awaits Word Confident of Satisfactory Adjustment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Satisfactory assurance by the Japanese government that its regrets over the killing of Lt. W. H. Langdon of Boston, chief engineer of the cruiser Albany, by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok, would be supplemented by convincing proof of its intention to make similar incidents improbable, were awaited today by the state department.

Confidence that the Japanese government would make adequate reparation was expressed by the department in a note despatched last night to the Tokio foreign office. The communication was sent by Acting Secretary Davis after he had read Admiral Gleaves' report of the action taken by Gen. OI to avert similar incidents.

In reporting to the navy department yesterday that the Japanese command officer at Vladivostok, General OI, had issued strict instructions that hereafter no sentry should challenge an American, Admiral Gleaves, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, informed the department that in view of developments, he had abandoned his plan to proceed there for an investigation at this time. The admiral's message said all high Japanese officials at Vladivostok had expressed sorrow and regret over the incident, and several had explained that the Japanese sentry who shot Lt. Langdon was very ignorant.

Lieut. Langdon's automobile statement that he did not fire upon the sentry until he was himself shot in the back, was corroborated in a report received at the Japanese embassy here yesterday, although an earlier official report issued in Tokio agreed with the sentry's version of the affair that he was first fired upon.

THE ANNUAL BUDGET The heads of different departments in city hall have started on the work of assembling figures to be used in connection with the completion of the annual budget. The mayor, in his inaugural address, asked that the departments speed up in getting the financial estimates for the year ready. He said that he hoped to have them in hand by February 1. Last year all of the estimates were not in until the last of February. This did not give sufficient time for carefully considering the requirements of the departments as the budget must be submitted to the council and adopted before March 1.

After Firing Practice Shots at Cat, Man Forces Wife to Become Target

Despite 12 Bullet Wounds Woman Said to Have Chance of Recovery

MUNKEGON, Mich., Jan. 14.—After several practice shots at the family cat, Irving Morton today forced his wife to become his target and spent 30 minutes in firing 12 shots into her body. Then he turned the rifle on himself and fired once, dying instantly.

Despite the 12 bullet wounds, Mrs. Morton has a chance of recovery, physicians said.

According to statements made to the police by the wounded woman, Morton was intoxicated.

N. Y. BUILDINGS ARE GUARDED

Public Buildings, Churches, Homes and Factories Under Rigid Guard

Order to Mobilize Forces a Precautionary Measure Against Bombers

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Public buildings, churches, public utility plants and homes of wealthy citizens throughout the city, were under heavy guard today by order of the police as a precautionary measure against radical demonstrations.

Police officials were extremely reticent concerning the order given verbally last night to the entire force, but they intimated it was prompted by federal authority.

Supporting the belief that the order was the result of federal stimulus was the fact that William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, made the rounds last night giving instructions to the police and detectives stationed at various posts. "He's out on duty with his men," was the gist of the sole comment of subordinates in his office.

Plain clothes detectives and uniformed patrolmen working in relays, were on sentry duty all night.

Special attention was given to protection of the homes of John D. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, Mayor John F. Egan and other citizens along Fifth avenue and in other fashionable residential districts.

Other cordons of guards were kept on duty at St. Patrick's cathedral, the stock exchange, the criminal courts building, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, city hall, the federal building, all railroad stations, the postoffice building and sub-stations, electric light plants and other public utility structures.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM

"Mats" Score Big Success
in Presentation of "Follies
and Frolics of 1921"

"Follies and Frolics of 1921" was presented by the Lowell Temperance Institute in association with the Lowell Opera House, Jan. 13. The program comprised a variety of the popular hits of the 1920 season and the jokes by the end men were original and striking.

The chorus of 50 voices was about the most impressive feature of the show and gave evidence of long preparation under good training. The individual entertainers included some of Lowell's most popular amateurs who had prepared special numbers for the occasion. The specialty by Walker and Meirath, two Lowell boys, was a decided hit.

Their dancing and comic songs were much in vogue in the professional productions, while the presentation of the Dewire sisters in two pleasing numbers showed their ability as versatile entertainers. J. Eugene Mullin's end song, preceded by a comic discussion about a singing contest he had for an ingersoll, kept the audience in laughs and had to be repeated in encores. The Dewire sisters were very pleasing in a new and professional number specially prepared by them, while Miss Alice Dion made another hit with her character singing in the number "When Marjorie Shook a da shimie sha wab." The costumes worn in the specialty numbers were very appropriate and those worn by the end men, served to make their parts only more effective.

"The Girl of My Dreams" by John

P. Roane, Jr., assisted by Martin H. Maguire and Miss Sadie Sheehan was perhaps the sweetest song of the evening.

Miss Florence Hague was heard to splendid advantage in "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," and Charles J. Keyes who "pulled off" a couple of good ones as an end man also made a hit in his musical numbers. Patrick Maguire and Matthew Ryan put over several good jokes and were well applauded in their end songs.

Much of the credit for the success of the affair must go to the officers and to the infinite pains and ability of the following: John J. Townsend, musical director; Bernard H. Bourke, stage director; Paul J. Angelo, accompanist; John W. Shalvey, interlocutor.

The program was as follows: Opening chorus, "Hold Me," "Sweetheart Waltz," "I've Got a Limbo Down on the Limbo Isle" and "Whispering," the solos being sustained by Miss Sadie Sheehan and Patrick Maguire; song, "You've Been a Dear Old Pal, Mother of Mine," Miss Bertha Dion; end song, "When I See All the Loving They Waste on the Babies," Charles J. Keyes; dancing specialty, Messrs. Walker and Meirath; character song, "When Marjorie Shook a da shimie sha wab," Miss Alice Dion; song, "The Girl of My Dreams," John P. Roane, Jr., assisted by Miss Sadie Sheehan and Martin H. Maguire; dancing specialty, Dewire sisters; end song, "I've Got the Blues For My Kentucky Home," Matthew A. Ryan; song, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," Miss Florence Hague; end song, "The Al-ways Goes Farther Than Father," J. Eugene Mullin; song, "Old Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me?" Miss Sadie Sheehan; end song, "The Girl I Left Behind Me Is Away Head of Me Now," Patrick Maguire; duet, "Pickaninny Rose," the Dion sisters; song, George Herbert; finale, "Marjorie," the solo being sustained by Charles J. Keyes. Broderick's orchestra played for the several dancing which followed.

The officers of the event were as follows: General manager, Arthur M. Flaherty; assistant, Thomas J. Tighe; floor director, John J. Bowers; assistant, Francis Plunkett; chief aid, John Conlon; aids, members of the association.

NATHAN HALE COUNCIL

In St. Patrick's school hall last evening a business meeting of the Nathan Hale Council, A.A.R.I.B., was held with President Peter J. McKenna in the chair. The confirmation of the following delegates recently chosen as representatives in the district council was made: P. J. McKenna, Patrick Sheehan, Miss Nancy Parker, Mrs. Nolan, Mrs. Martin, Miss Anderson, Michael Donohue and James O'Sullivan. The next meeting of the council will be at the call of the district organization next Thursday evening.

LECTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Camouflage and Protective Coloration in Birds and Animals will be the subject of the free lecture to be given in high school hall next Wednesday evening by Gerald H. Thayer. This is the first of a series of lectures to be given in the Moses G. Parker course at the high school. Mr. Thayer was very prominent in utilizing the art of camouflage during the war and was prominent in applying the principles of protective coloration to ships, guns and other equipment and also to men. Other lectures are to be given. The public is invited to attend all lectures are being given in accordance with a provision of the late Dr. Parker's will.

The first woman's patriotic society in America, the Society of Colonial Dames of America, was organized in New York City, in 1890.

Prison Commission Says Coal

Men, Who Stole $200,000, Are Unpunished

That "about $200,000,000 was stolen by someone in the coal business in New England last year, although we have seen nothing of the thief to court, while some poor fellow who stole a pair of shoes awhile ago is now serving time," was charged by Sanford E. Bates, chairman of the Massachusetts prison commission, in an address before the members of the State's club of Grace church last night. Mr. Bates spoke on "A New Era in Penology." Among the reforms that he advocated were the building of a new state prison, an institution for the segregation of criminals of sub-normal mentality, and the payment of wages to prisoners.

Let the Declaration of Independence and the constitution of the United States say what they may, but all men are not equal, asserted Mr. Bates. "A fellow brought up in the gutter can by no means have the same chance as the fellow who is home every night or his mother knows the reason why."

The Charlestown Prison

The Charlestown state prison was built in 1865. The legislature in 1914 passed an act providing that this prison should be sold, and that the money derived from the sale should go toward paying for the Danvers State hospital. But the old prison is still doing service, and conditions there are decidedly bad. A man's cell is his living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen, bathroom and toilet—all in one. "When you have taken away a man's shirt you have taken away the best thing he has, and that is enough. We want a new prison building and we feel that the state can afford it. Deer Island in Boston harbor is the desired spot, being as ideal a place as could be selected."

There are several reasons for the present increase in crime. Consider the returned world war veterans. You put guns in the hands of three million boys and teach them to kill, and they do not soon get over it. I gave out 15 Victory medals at the state prison not long ago.

Classifying Prisoners

"We are now classifying prisoners and increasing to a great extent individual attention. In Dickens' time everyone was dumped into the same jail, regardless of their crime, mental and physical condition or sex. That is now changed, so that men and women have their separate institutions or departments, and there are many classifications of the various prisoners. Another classification is needed, however, one for those who are not insane, but whose minds are lacking."

"Put a feeble-minded boy of 15 in jail with 100 criminals and what is going to happen to him? The feeble-minded must be taken and put in the environment they should be in. A colony for the mentally defective delinquents would be not only the right thing to have, but it would in the end mean economy for the state. This class should not be allowed to propagate innumerable offspring for the state's charitable institutions to care for in the future."

Gets Sarcastic Letters

"The movement for prisoners' wages has failed many times in the state legislature. Every time we advocate it we receive countless sarcastic letters from

Lowell Man Says Since Tan-lac Restored Health He Persuaded Several Friends to Take Medicine and They Also Obtain Fine Results

Tan-lac has built me up 15 pounds in weight and put me in shape to where I actually feel better than I did, even before my troubles began, and you may know by that what I think of the medicine," said Thomas H. Richardson, 73 Kinsman street, Lowell, recently.

"For two years I suffered from indigestion, and after each meal, gas would form on my stomach and bloat me terribly. At times I felt so stuffed up I could hardly get my breath, and I had a burning sensation all through my chest. My food soured, and often I was so sick I couldn't retain anything I ate. My appetite kept getting smaller and smaller until finally I had no desire for food at all. I just had to force myself to eat a little something in order to keep up. I was so nervous I never got a good night's sleep, just rolled and tossed the hours through, and mornings I felt completely tired and worn out. I fell off in weight until I was so thin and weak I could hardly stay up, and my clothes got so big for me I had to get smaller ones. I frequently had dizzy spells when everything seemed to turn round and round with me, and I just had to drop whatever I was doing and sit down for a time. Then, too, I was subject to severe headaches, and at times the back of my head hurt so bad it seemed that I couldn't endure it.

"A friend of mine finally got me to give Tan-lac a trial, and I must say it is the one medicine I don't hesitate to recommend to anyone suffering with stomach trouble. When I brought my appetite back in almost no time, and now I am eating just anything I want without having the least trace of indigestion. Everything agrees with me so well I have gained back my lost weight, and am now wearing the clothes I had to get away from so long. My strength has come back to me, and my nerves are in perfect condition, so that I sleep like a top and always get up feeling fine. I never have a headache or dizzy spell, and always feel rested and full of energy. Why, I used to be constipated, but Tan-lac has corrected that, along with all my other troubles, and I know it is the best medicine in the world. I have recommended it to a number of my friends, and they all report good results, too."

Tan-lac is sold in Lowell by Greens Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tan-lac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

the public, and we are charged with trying to make things soft for the criminals. At the present time when a man completes his term he is given $10, a suit of clothes which he gets rid of as soon as he can for something less recognizable, and his fare home. "Men who enter jail should do it all equally. Those crooks who have managed to save something out of their stealings and have a bank account can get pile and other things, while the more honest ones who have restored anything they happened to have stolen have to go without. All should be given a small wage out of which all of their expenses would be taken."

At the close of Mr. Bates' address there was a discussion in which questions were asked by Rev. Edward C. Dineen, Dr. C. Forrest Martin and Probation Officer Ramsay.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who was present, spoke briefly regarding the course of free public lectures that it is proposed to have delivered in Lowell under the Moses Greely Parker foundation.

MEETING FOR MOTHERS Under the auspices of the Florence Crittenton League, a meeting for mothers will be held at Middlesex hall, Palmer street, Tuesday afternoon, January 18, at 4 o'clock. The speaker will be Miss Mabel B. Blake, general secretary of the Boston society for the care of girls. Her subject will be, "What a Girl Needs." Miss Blake's experience with girls has been unlimited. All mothers and persons interested in the welfare of girls are urged to be present.

THE TEXTILE SCHOOLS Bill To Have Them Aid In Developing Textile Industry, Filed

(Special to The Sun.)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Jan. 14.—A bill to make the textile schools of the state more useful in aiding and developing the textile industry was filed with the clerk of the senate yesterday afternoon on petition of Senator Gardner W. Pearson of Lowell and others.

The bill reads:—Section 1. Upon the written request submitted to the commonwealth by any resident or corporation of Massachusetts who or which is manufacturing textiles, who has devised or who or which is manufacturing any attachment to or improvement in textile machinery, or any dye or compound supposed to be useful in textile manufacturing, or who has devised any process supposed to be useful in textile manufacturing, such textile school shall make a comparative test of the quality of such textiles or the material used therein and the quality, efficiency, and best method of using such dye, compound, attachment, improvement or process, and shall make a written report thereon.

Section 2. Such tests shall be made without expense to the commonwealth except for overhead charges, including administration, light, heat, power, and wear and tear on machinery, the estimated pro rata expense of which shall be repaid to the commonwealth by such citizen or corporation.

Section 3. The cost of personal services of instructors and employees for such part of their time as is devoted to such tests and which is not included in and does not interfere with their regular school work, shall be computed on an equitable basis in accordance with, but in addition to, their salaries or wages, and shall be paid by the citizen or corporation requesting the test.

Section 4. Such tests shall not be allowed to interfere with the regular school work nor with the operation of school machinery for instruction.

Section 5. Upon such a request by any person not a resident or any corporation not of Massachusetts to either of said textile schools, such school may make such a test and report as hereinbefore provided, provided such test and report does not interfere with the school work or tests and reports being made for residents or corporations of Massachusetts.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE Ruth Royce, queen of "em all when it comes to stunts and acrobatics, is in an inimitable manner, is topping the show at the R. F. Keith theatre this week. She has an almost incredible time of interest in her songs that nobody else puts quite the same stress on that she can and does. Her Thibault number is a work of art, to the world famous clown, is another entertainer without a peer. What he does is so different from what anybody else does in the clown line. Then there are Tolly and Oz, a clean, likeable musical team, the woman number of which is youthful and full of pep. Other acts on the weeks bill are: Drew, a valet; Thornton & Holland, Wright & Earl, and Martin & Moore.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Lowell movie fans are in line for a treat in the form of a delightful comedy drama, "The Hooker's Romance," starring those clever funsters, Douglas Maclean and Loretta May. This photoplay, which opened its engagement yesterday for the last three days of this week, is one of the most enjoyable comedies in which these stars have been seen in. The story deals with the troubles of a returned soldier, who suddenly inherits a fortune. The story has numerous mirth provoking situations of which the stars make the most. "The Education of Elizabeth," featuring winsome Billie Burke, is the second picture on the program.

The story deals with a chorus girl who is to marry into an old colonial family, and the girl's attempt to educate herself in the ways of the aristocracy in which she is placed. Comedy, International News and Travel pictures round out the bill.

THE STRAND

"The Daughter Pays," a strong, interesting dramatic story, in which pretty Elaine Hammerstein is seen in the principal role, is the headline in the bill now showing at The Strand. It is one of the best picture stories of its kind.

"Scratch My Back," with Helene Chadwick, the "handsomest girl in the world," according to the judgment of

School Teacher Suffers Breakdown

Nerves Shattered, Tired and Worn Out, Thought She Would Have to Give Up Work, Took

RE-NU-YU and Gained Ten Pounds Miss Mary Morrissey, popular school teacher of North Andover, Mass., is a firm believer in the merit of RE-NU-YU, as it proved so effective in her case. Discussing it recently, she said: "I was completely run down and suffering from nervous strain that caused me to lose weight rapidly. I felt tired and worn out all the time, was nervous and irritable and thought I should have to give up my work. I decided to try RE-NU-YU. After taking it a short time, I noticed my nerves were stronger and I began to increase in weight. I have now gained several pounds and feel better and stronger in every way. RE-NU-YU is a splendid family tonic for old and young. Excellent for children, it contains the necessary elements that help make strong healthy bodies. Take it regularly three times a day. It will help you check or ward off colds, other winter nose and throat troubles. It's a store at druggists—$1.25 a bottle. A store at Greens Company, Boston, Mass. Also Pimples, Hair Thin and Fell Out. Cuticura Heals.

"After an attack of typhoid fever, pimples and dandruff appeared on my scalp and caused it to itch. My hair became thin and constantly fell and combed out, and the dandruff scaled off and could be seen on my clothing."

"The trouble lasted three or four years. I tried remedies but found no cure in them. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after I had used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment with the Cuticura Soap I was healed." (Signed) Thomas A. Maguire, 16 Lamson St., East Boston, Mass., July 9, 1920.

POSSIBILITY OF NEW ACTORS' STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Possibility of a new actors' strike loomed today when members of the producing managers' association were called together to act on a demand of the Actors' Equity association that the producing firm of Lee & J. J. Shubert be dropped from the Managers' Association roll.

The Equity which conducted the actors' strike in 1919, submitted its demand yesterday, basing it on allegations that the Shuberts had been guilty of flagrant and continued violation of the basic agreement of September 8, 1919. It was this agreement, which ended the 1919 strike.

Lee Shubert denied the charge of continued violation of the agreement asserting that it was based on "six or seven dinky little cases" in which he admitted injustice might have been done. It was impossible, he declared, for members of the firm to give personal attention to all minor disputes raised by members of the firm's various theatrical companies.

KING'S COUNSEL IN DUBLIN WOUNDED

LONDON, Jan. 14.—William Magrath, king's counsel in Dublin, was severely wounded when fired upon by a man who forced an entrance into his home early today, says a telegram from that city. He was struck by several bullets. Offices of the Dublin Union were raided by eight members of the crown forces last night and books and documents were seized.

AT THE C.Y.M.I.

Recently Elected Officers Installed Last Evening—Entertainment Program and General Good Time

Officers recently elected by the members of the C.Y.M.I. were installed at a meeting in the club room in Suffolk street last night. An entertainment program was furnished and all smiles were passed around during the social hour following the installation.

The officers installed were as follows: Martin O'Donovan, president; James Bruin, vice president; John P. Murphy, financial secretary; James H. Walsh, recording secretary; Francis O'Neill, marshal; Frank Keenan, Rev. Fr. Keenan, Joseph Kilroy, James Lannon, Thomas M. Lynch, John McDermott, Frank McGarhan, James McPhillips, Timothy Bohan, Andrew Smith and Leo P. Wyndol, directors. Rev. Francis L. Keenan, spiritual director for the organization acted as the installing officer. After a brief address by Fr. Keenan, President O'Donovan was appointed director of the evening's entertainment.

A mock trial for violation of the club rules was carried out with the following taking part: William Connelley, complainant; Stephen Hession, attorney for complainant; John Murphy and John Connelley, defendants; Patrick Brady, Jr., and John J. Flannery, attorneys for the defendants; Martin O'Donovan and J. Walsh, judges; John Molloy, John Quinn, Patrick McGarhan, Patrick Brady, Paul McLoughlin and John "Doc" Keefe were the soloists of the evening.

John Leveque, the man with the iron arms, gave an exhibition of juggling and acrobatic stunts, he posed in bronze paint and went through all kinds and sizes of hoops. He juggled a 35 pound dumb-bell in each hand and lifted them up over his head while standing in military position, thus showing the strength of his arms. He was a 147 pound man with one hand above his head.

He stated last night that he was willing to bet that he could lift any upright piano and take it on his back and he had it laid across the assembly hall. Leveque is known to have juggled the C.Y.M.I. piano before, but he has never given a public exhibition of this feat. The stunt is expected to draw a large crowd.

ENTERTAINED EMPLOYEES

The D. L. Page Co. played the part of host to its employees and a few friends last evening. The gathering, which was informal, took place in the dining room of the company and was characterized as a family assembly. Dinner was served by early employees and this was followed by an entertainment program, those taking part being Miss Mary Twomey, Mrs. Mary Twomey, Thomas J. Quinn and Miss Theresa McGarhan. The next number on the program was general dancing, which was enjoyed till the wee hours of the morning. Buffet lunches being served during intermission. The evening's program was in charge of the following: Miss Jackson Meade, Miss Yande M. Ryan, Miss Mary Cox and Miss Anna Emborg.

WILL CLOSE THURSDAY

The Centralville merchants have fallen in line with the other storekeepers of the city and will close their establishments Thursday afternoon. The new closing agreement, which was brought about through the efforts of George O. Perreault, will become effective next week. The merchants of the district feel that their employees are entitled to a half-holiday a week and they ask the co-operation of the public by placing orders well in advance so that deliveries may be made Thursday mornings.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, famous New York surgeon, has part of the heart of an embryo chicken, which is still alive and growing.

HONOR FR. GALLIGAN

Presented $1000 Check at Silver Jubilee Reception in Lincoln Hall

In recognition of the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood and in appreciation of his zealous labors as pastor, the parishioners of St. Margaret's church last evening in Lincoln hall tendered to Rev. Fr. Galligan a fitting testimonial of their love and esteem.

The committee in charge of the affair, of which Mr. George M. Harrigan was chairman, had been busy during the past two weeks without the pastor's knowledge on arrangements for the affair, and the success attained and the generous and spontaneous display of love and affection for the reverend pastor on all sides brought a fitting reward to all those who took part in the work.

While parishioners made up the greater part of the large audience, priests from the other parishes of the city, as well as many from out of town, and city and state officials, were on hand to assist in paying tribute to the beloved pastor.

During the course of the evening's program a check for $1000, was presented to Fr. Galligan, as a gift from his parishioners, Hon. James B. Casey making the presentation speech in the absence of Chairman Harrigan, who was confined to his home with a cold.

The evening's program was formally opened shortly after 8 o'clock with a program of music which included piano numbers by William P. McCarthy, solos by John P. Noane, Sr., Commissioner Jas. E. Donnelly, Kathleen Hennessy, and readings by James Coughlin. A feature of the musical numbers was the assembly singing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," and "America," with Miss Hennessy sustaining the solo.

Rev. Stephen Murray, assistant to Fr. Galligan, was then presented. Fr. Murray served as secretary and treasurer of the reception committee and he took occasion to thank Mr. Harrigan and all other members for their assistance in making the affair possible.

He also expressed his gratitude to the parishioners, the visiting priests, city officials and the talent for their presence and co-operation in bringing the affair to such a splendid climax.

He told of his own work under Fr. Galligan, of the pleasure it gave him to do his utmost to assist him. He reviewed the progress made by Fr. Galligan since becoming a priest of God.

and of the wonderful work he had accomplished since coming to St. Margaret's church. "He found the parish heavily burdened with debt when he arrived here, but in the brief space of ten years, he has not only wiped out the $72,000 mortgage but now has a parish fund for the purpose of building a school and making other improvements." In conclusion, the speaker offered his heartfelt felicitations to the Rev. Fr. Galligan, wishing him many years of life and happiness.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was next introduced and was cordially greeted. He said that while it gave him much pleasure to extend official congratulations to the guest of the evening, he was also glad of the opportunity to pay his personal respects to a clergyman, whom he admired. He complimented the members of the parish on having such conscientious, faithful and hard working guides. He lauded him as a priest of God and a citizen and concluded by wishing him years of happiness and success.

Presentation of $1000

Hon. James B. Casey, who acted as presiding officer, in the absence of Mr. Harrigan, then arose and after paying an eloquent tribute to Fr. Galligan, concluded by presenting on behalf of the parishioners of St. Margaret's a check for $1000. Mr. Casey spoke in part as follows:

At rare intervals in the life of a parish is an opportunity afforded parishioners to enjoy an event of such happy significance as we members of St. Margaret's parish are privileged to experience tonight. We are assembled with hearts full of love for our pastor, and thoughts unified with esteem and affection for his priestly labors. A prayer is on our lips that he may be spared many years of health and strength to continue the ennobling influence of his life in our midst.

Our pastor observes the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood. Twenty-five years of earnest, self-sacrificing labor in the service of God, and he could not be a real priest of God without it meaning also 25 years of service to his country as well. What quiet and intense satisfaction must possess him tonight as the vista of 25 years passes in memory before him. How beautiful and sweet must be those thoughts reverting to that memorable day of his life Dec. 20, 1895, when he knelt at the altar of his faith, there to receive those holy orders that forever dedicated him to the service of God and humanity.

Our honored pastor has faithfully and unselfishly devoted his life and energies to his sacred calling. He has been typified by word and deed the nobility of soul and strength of character that is his. Pointing out with unerring judgment the pathway of right living he has guided his flock with a true love of God and respect for the rights of one's neighbor and society in general. Fortified with the strength and doctrines of the church he represents, he stands fearlessly a bulwark and defense against the dissemination of false teaching and new fangledisms that would destroy and undermine the very foundation of government, and civil life. He has been to our every effort his individuals, and as a parish, how unending have been his efforts to promote and advance the spiritual and material welfare of our church. How discouraging must have been the reception of his labors in our parish since

Sergt. S. M. Armstrong by the English Government

Leaving his home, in Woburn, Mass., in 1914, and then only 19 years old, he enlisted in the Royal British Fusiliers, seeing severe service in all the big battles of the World War, one the hardest at the Dardanelles. Wounded 17 times and badly gassed he was discharged four years later (1918). Like hundreds of other soldiers Sam suffered a great deal from the after effects of the "gas" which left him weak, unable to eat much of the things he liked, and not able to work. A hollow thinner and a New England Saturday night's supper were two of the many nice things he had to deny himself. "For two years I doctored and three times spent money, but nothing helped me like Sister Mary's Compound. At first, I thought I was feeling worse, but made up my mind to keep taking it and in a little while I felt a great change for the better. For day I can eat and enjoy everything my wife cooks, such as beans, cabbage, fried potatoes and many other things supposed to cause indigestion. Am working every day, have been accepted in the Woburn Company of the National Guard and the British government has cut out my monthly allowance of $4.00 that I have been drawing for two years. But I do not miss the money since I have the satisfaction and enjoyment of good health and which cannot be measured in dollars and cents."

S. M. Armstrong, 13 Walnut St., Woburn, Mass. Sergt. Armstrong began taking Sister Mary's Compound in June, 1920, and today is a happy man. For Stomach, Throat and Lung Trouble, Body Builder and Blood Purifier Sister Mary's Compound has no superior. EVERY ingredient is a mild laxative, causing a natural evacuation.

Guaranteed. Take Home Six Bottles. Use according to Directions. If not satisfied with results, your money will be refunded.

SISTER MARY'S COMPOUND IS BEING DEMONSTRATED AT GREEN'S DRUG STORE, MERRIMACK SQ., OUR SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE will be here EVERY day to meet ALL who wish to know the benefits to be derived from the use of Sister Mary's Compound for STOMACH, THROAT, BOWEL and LUNG troubles, and value as a BLOOD PURIFIER and BODY BUILDER.—Adv.

357 MIDDLESEX ST. 140 GORHAM ST. 370 BRIDGE ST. TELEPHONE CONNECTIONS years ago when he assumed the pastorate with a huge debt of $72,000 thereon. How much more eloquently than words does the cancellation of that entire debt prove the remarkable devotion and loyalty of pastor and people of St. Margaret's parish.

What is this strange emotion that possesses us all tonight? Strange because it is so rarely experienced. It is an emotion born of love and affection for a fellowman who has justly earned by a holy and noble life the highest tribute of earthly affection that may be bestowed upon him. Tonight in the fullness of life may our pastor feel some compensating happiness and reward for his 25 years of consecrated service as he looks into the happy and joyous faces of his flock and realizes the depth of love and gratitude that is there reflected. May he continue on strengthened and nurtured by this happy event, until the evening shadows of life overtake him, and may those future years of activity be devoted to the service of St. Margaret's parish. May he grow old with us. May his future grow and let us hope, but little sorrow, he shared with the parish he has built so well, and when his life's work is ended, let it be in the midst of those who know him best, and because of that, loved him best.

Reverend dear father, permit me in behalf of the loyal and good people of St. Margaret's parish, to offer you a slight token of affectionate regard and esteem for the stupendous work accomplished in our behalf. Slight it is, indeed by comparison to the warmth of love and affection behind its presentation. Let me pledge anew the earnest, loyal co-operation of your people in whatever future work you may undertake for the progress of the parish.

Rev. Fr. Galligan's Response

As Fr. Galligan came to the front of the platform the audience rose and accorded him an enthusiastic greeting. He said:

He reviewed briefly the work accomplished by the parish during his pastorate of about 10 years and allowed that what has been accomplished was due, not through any special guidance of himself but because of the hearty and whole-souled co-operation received from the people of the parish. He accepted the warmth of feeling shown by the presence of such a large number as a true indication, not alone of the affection existing between himself and his people but also the true and satisfying harmony, love and co-operation of the shepherd and his flock. In closing he took occasion to express his thanks and appreciation to his assistant, Rev. Fr. Murray, for the help given him during his stay here, and also to Mayor Thompson for the cordial friendship and consideration he had always shown him and the people of his parish. To Mr. Casey he gave a special word of commendation for the work that he had given the parish during the past 25 years, saying that his "speech hitting" on the present occasion was only a repetition of past efforts.

In conclusion he said, that while he appreciated the gift more than words could express, he felt that it could do greater good by being turned over to the parish fund and his plan to do immediately.

At the close a reception was held at which every one present met Fr. Galligan and personally expressed his or her congratulations.

Those who were present were Rev. D. J. Haffern and Rev. Peter Lohan of St. Peter's parish; Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., Rev. John Doherty, O.M.I., and Rev. J. Franklin Wood, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church; Rev. James A. Sepp, D.D., and Rev. Francis Keenan of St. Patrick's; Rev. Lawrence P. Tully, O.M.I., and Rev. J. J. McCarthy, O.M.I., and Rev. J. J. McCarthy, O.M.I., of the Immaculate Conception church; Rev. James Kelley of Hough's Neck; Rev. W. George Millon, formerly of Peter's but now of Manchester-by-the-Sea; Rev. Charles E. Horney of Notre Dame; Rev. Thomas Crowley of Brookline; Rev. Robert McGee, O.M.I., of the Townsend Institute. The committee that made the arrangements had George M. Har-

COME ALONG THE FISHING IS GREAT

Fishing through the ice is all the rage now and many good catches have already been reported. Yesterday a party of fishermen under the direction of Napoleon Gaultier spent the day at Foxboro pond, Foxboro, and returned last evening with seven extra large pickerel and four yellow perch, the weight of each being over one pound.

Another party, headed by Arthur H. Gifford, journeyed to Keyes pond in Westford and after spending the day catching the little red Sags and pulling in their lines occasionally, returned last evening with a half dozen large pickerel and a white perch, which tipped the scale at 24 pounds. Favorable reports are also coming from people who have tried their luck at Lake Massacuppie and Long pond in Merrimack.

PROTEST ACTION OF HOULTON DOCTORS

HOULTON, Me., Jan. 14.—The doctors of Houlton have entered into an agreement not to "engage" in any confinement cases in the county (over one mile out) from January 1, 1921, to May 1, 1921. The doctors give as a reason for this agreement that there is a scarcity of doctors and nurses, that traveling over the rural roads is slow and difficult. Unfavorable reports are also coming from people who have tried their luck at Lake Massacuppie and Long pond in Merrimack.

MURDERS IN IRELAND

Crown Forces Killed 37 From Dec. 18 to Jan. 12, Says Sinn Fein Bulletin

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—The Sinn Fein Bulletin asserts that from Dec. 18 to Jan. 12 crown forces have committed 37 murders, 12 attempted murders and wounding, burned 73 houses and ships and that not in a single case has any punishment been inflicted, despite the proclamation of General Sir Nevill Balfour, the military commander in Ireland, that culpable persons would be liable to court-martial and the death penalty.

MANY COTTON MILLS TO REOPEN

FALL RIVER, Jan. 14.—The coming week will see a big increase in the number of cotton mills resuming operations and inquiry among mill owners reveals an improving situation. The Arkwright mills, closed for the past 18 weeks, are to start up and the Waltham mills will also resume. The Lowell Lake mills will reopen a week from Monday, but the Union mills will start machinery Monday. It was said in certain mill sources yesterday that the rate this far this year would be about 400,000 pieces. Mill owners are firm and there have been no strikes of any kind in the cotton industry.

COL. LOGAN PRAISES CARE OF DEAD IN FRANCE

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—"I think nothing could have been better done than the care which our government has taken of our honored dead in France," declared Col. Edward L. Logan, who recently returned from a trip to France as one of the committee from this state to inspect the cemeteries. He spoke last night at the Y-Y club.

"Not only are the cemeteries charmingly located and beautifully laid out but they are cared for in the most tender and painstaking way. The families of those who have fallen may be sure of those things."

"If the body of their dear one remains in France it will lie in a beautiful cemetery and the grave will be faithfully and respectfully cared for. If the remains are sent home they may be sure that the body is that of their fallen, for the most exacting solicitude is used by the graves registration service in identifying bodies for shipment and in cases where there is the least doubt no remains are sent."

Col. Logan praised in the warmest manner the situation of the cemeteries, especially those at Fere en Ardennes and in the Argonne.

The only criticism he had to offer was that the Argonne cemetery, where lie the dead of the Argonne drive and which in time will, in his opinion, become the shrine for American dead in France, is about 10 kilometers from a railroad and consequently rather inaccessible.

First Division Took Credit

After describing his trip, covering the ground so familiar to all his audience he touched on the monument erected by the 1st Division at Hatton Chatel commemorating the capture of that town by the 1st Division in the St. Mihiel drive.

"The parish priest," said Col. Logan, "who has a book given him by an American woman for the entry of the names of those American visitors of the town, told me that the 1st Division had put up the monument. It is located just outside the town."

"I carefully examined the priest that it was the 26th Division which had freed the town from the Germans, not the 1st. He asked me to write the correction in his book. I did so, setting down the details so that all Americans who go there in the future may read the record in the book."

"I don't have to tell you men that it was the 193d which captured Vignettes and the 101st which took Hatton Chatel, hours before the 1st Division was anywhere in sight. And that when it did come in from the south it deployed on the plain before us prepared to attack the town."

Covered Once Pandemic Ground

As this was the first opportunity for most of the men to hear of present conditions in France, they listened with great interest to Col. Logan's story of how the places, once so familiar to the veterans, had changed and not changed.

"It might interest you to know how the French are rebuilding the ruined areas," said the colonel. "The towns which are least destroyed are the first to be restored and the communities which suffered the least, or not at all, are assessed in proportion for the reconstruction of the damaged towns."

"I saw no evidence of despair or downheartedness among the people of the war areas; on the contrary, they are proceeding about the rebuilding of their homes with energy, resourcefulness and that resolute cheerfulness characteristic of the French."

He told how the stones of the demolished buildings have been successfully collected and piled by the side of the road, ready when the time comes to be used again in the construction of homes.

Vegetation Covers Ruined Wastes

Describing the devastation of the territory of the Chemin des Dames, he stated that all the lifeless, barren destruction of that country had been overgrown by a rank growth of weeds; little had actually been renewed and few people had come back to their old homes, but the new vegetation had hidden the bare and hideous waste of the fields and towns.

The country north of Verdun, where the 26th Division was in line at the armistice, had apparently been untouched since the war ended, according to the colonel. He said he was very sure that his party was first in many months to go up the length of Death Valley to Bellefleur, and he had to wade through weeds nearly to his neck in order to find the crumbled and mouldering entrance to his P. O. in that sector.

END OF BOOKWORLD?

English Authors and Publishers Alarmed by Decrease of Reading Public

LONDON.—Is the world of books coming to an end? Authors and publishers have seen here lately are seriously discussing it. Figures given to me by one of them point that way. In 1913 in England there were 12,400 books published. Then, of course, intervened the war, when nothing much was done. In 1919 the number had fallen to 8627. In 1920 the number has not quite touched the 6000 mark.

A famous publisher tells me that out of one hundred manuscripts submitted to publishers the average printed is two. With the exception of such a book as "The Young Visitors"—which only proves the rule—it is quite unusual nowadays for any book on any subject to run into many editions.

The publishers agree that this decline is due to a variety of causes, the paper shortage, the rush and hurry of ordinary people who have to work harder for their living, a reduction in the number who have the pleasant houses, the attentive servants, the leisure for easy fires and comfortable chairs in front of them, which invite long hours of reading. People who used to buy books spend the much smaller sum nowadays devoted to recreation at the movies. It is becoming a rare thing to find clubs and groups of middle class people engaged in a systematic study of modern literature. Privately is one cause.

L. M. Dent, the popular fiction publisher, is of that opinion. "People want their books to look like chocolate boxes nowadays. They seem to be getting ashamed to admit a real interest in serious reading," he said.

Sir Arthur Spurgeon, managing director of Cassell's, was asked what classes of people in England buy books now.

"There is only one class who buy heavily and steadily," he said. "The middle people no longer even pretend to culture. The middle classes are too poor to read or buy. The working class—working men and women, miners, factory workers, agricultural laborers—are the greatest buying public of the world today. The greatest reading class in Great Britain is the Workers' Educational Association, every member of which aims to possess every standard work published and keeps steadily at it until his ambition is gratified."

Sir Arthur said that it is no unusual thing for a miner in South Wales to put down six pence (equivalent to 12c) for a new edition of a standard dictionary.

In a tiny pit head cabin situated in a rocky cavern, the agent of the dictionary, who sold by his agent in four days at 15s a volume. Ten thousand copies of "The World We Live In" were sold in a month to working men in a Lancashire mill town. Books on science and history, on religion, politics, economics, have a steadily increasing sale to working men. They average about one thousand copies a week in the northern towns of Lancashire and Yorkshire and two thousand in South Wales. Fiction has no sale at all in these circles.

And what of the men who write these standard books? Their story is quite different. The case of H. G. Wells stands by itself and hardly comes under the head of the usual scientific or historical book. But the story of William Forster's "History of the British Army," for example, which is generally regarded as one of the best books on modern war, has in the world today has got even rendered its eminent author a living wage. According to him, the average wage of an English historian is fourteen shillings a week. This is equivalent to about $230.

"I should have done better for myself financially," Mr. Forster said. "If I had become a private in the line of the British army 20 years ago and remained a private throughout that period without promotion or extra emoluments or war bonuses."

And the plight of writers of fiction is no less discouraging. Also Waugh, the young author of "The Loom of Youth," who had his first literary success at a younger age than any living novelist, has the additional advantage of being a member of a publishing firm as well as a novelist. His opinion today is that unless a novelist can find a special line which he can make his own, there is no hope for him.

"The public can't abide a novelist who shifts about and changes his style," Mr. Waugh said. "If Conrad came ashore, if Pett Ridge went to Paris, if Angela Brazil began to write vamp stuff, if Thomas Burke moved to Berkeley Square, their books would fall right down and never pick up again until they made an entirely new public for themselves. The modern fiction writer is expected to turn out a volume a year of his characteristic stuff. If he does, and is content to hash and re-hash his stock properties, he may make a living; but then he must always be prepared for a sudden veer in public taste which will sweep him and his period completely out to sea."

Mrs. Helene Lowndes, a dainty little motherly woman whose French blood shows in the cut and exquisite material of her always black attire, is of about the same opinion. The real literary plums are likely to fall to those novelists who get hold of some elemental quality and confine themselves to showing its development under various conditions.

"Crime," she said, "is alluring to good and virtuous people. They love crime stories because it rests them to read of the doings of another world. It takes them out of the monotonous humdrum routine which surrounds the conscientious and devoted citizen."

All the same, the end of the book world is going to come unless things take another turn. And perhaps they will. There is going to be no lack of effort on the part of publishers, and even authors are to be called in to help to sell their own wares. One of the big department stores has engaged several novelists and biographers to visit their book department and write their autographs in meat and write their autographs in any books of theirs sold. Among them are Beatrice Harradan, Lucien Malet, Colonel Repington, Pett Ridge, P. F. Warner, the popular cricketer, S. B. P. Mals, Sir Philip Gibbs, and others of smaller magnitude. Mrs. Asquith may be invited later but at present, I am told, her autobiography is one of the few "best sellers."

McGREGOR LINKS

NEARING COMPLETION

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The McGregor Links, a new 18-hole golf course, the officers of which have already taken steps to obtain the 1922 United States open championship golf tournament, is nearing completion. The links, miles north of this city, is the first of its kind in the state, and is a course possessing not only distinctive golfing possibilities, but also an unusual history with respect to its inception, financing and development. The links takes its name from historic St. McGregor under whose shadow the course is laid out. It was this south-eastern spur of the Adirondack mountains that Gen. Cyprian S. Great chose as the site for his residence when his health overtook him; and it was there he died in 1855.

Work on the links and clubhouse was begun last spring. The course will be playable next June. In constructing the course, an effort was made to combine the successful features of the most noted golf courses of the world. The soil, a sandy loam with rapidly draining qualities which permit a long playing season and which reduce the annoyance of worm casts to a minimum, proved particularly adaptable. Although nearly 200 miles inland and located among the rolling Adirondack foothills with all the characteristics and golfing problem of a mountain course, it also closely resembles a seaside course. The undulating contour of the terrain is almost exactly like that of the noted seaside links of Scotland. Typical sand dunes dot the country and the sand hazards are like those of courses near salt water.

For beginners and those less expert in the game there has been provided a short course of about 5000 yards. The regular course measures 6000 yards. For championship play there is a third course 6700 yards long. The championship course is approximately 130 yards longer than the Inverness course at Toledo, where the 1920 open championship was played. The different distances are obtained by the different locations of the tees.

TROUBLE OVER TOBACCO PRICES NOTHING NEW

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 14. (By the Associated Press.)—Although the movement of 1921 for the forcing of tobacco prices to a higher level in Central Kentucky probably is more general than ever before, according to tobacco men, trouble over tobacco prices is nothing new. Efforts to "cut out" the crop because of low prices, have taken place periodically for the last 12 years, resulting in 1908 in what amounted to virtually a war between growers who did not plant and those who did.

In 1908 tobacco beds were there farmers shipped and some instances killed and a general reign of terror was inaugurated. State troops were unable to cope with the situation and the trouble did not end only when Gov. Augustus E. Wilson issued a proclamation saying that the killing of a "night rider" would be followed by an immediate pardon for the slayer. There were no sales of tobacco that year in any of the principal markets of the tobacco belt either in the cigarette tobacco section of Central Kentucky or the "Black Belt," or dark burley section of western Kentucky.

During the two years prior to the night rider trouble prices for tobacco had been at a low level. In 1906, 1,542,547 pounds were sold on the Lexington breaks at an average of $7.49 per 100 pounds, while 18,347,805 pounds were sold in 1907 for an average of $10.33.

Prices rose to a new high level of $14.11 a hundred for 42,041,877 pounds in 1909, but slumped again in 1910. This caused the calling of a convention in Lexington which was attended, according to local historians, by growers from Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana and at which it was unanimously voted to "cut out" the crop in 1911. There is no indication, however, that the agreement was generally followed out for records of the Lexington Tobacco Warehouse association show that in the latter year 18,498,935 pounds of tobacco were marketed here at an average price of $10.33 per 100 pounds as compared with an average of $7.66 per hundred for 19,041,877 pounds in 1910.

The prices for tobacco reached an average of $12.91 per hundred for 43,177,225 pounds on the local market in 1912 and $12.05 per hundred for 40,176,075 in 1913, but dropped again to $8.27 in 1914 when 56,419,215 pounds, a record for this market up to that time, were sold over the breaks here. The next year only 35,298,650 pounds were offered at auction here and brought an average of $10.53 per hundred.

With 1915 the upward trend of tobacco prices started. In 1916 42,041,877 pounds were sold here for an average of $18.27 a hundred and in 1917, the average price paid for 41,219,910 pounds jumped $10 per hundred to $28.27. Another $10 increase occurred in 1918 when the local warehouse association auctioned 55,526,360 pounds for an average of $38.39 per hundred.

The largest amount of tobacco that ever went over the floors of the Lexington warehouse was marketed in 1919 for the highest price on record, 63,419,565 pounds being sold for an average of $40.17 per 100 pounds.

Indications of a drop in price were foreseen by tobacco men early in 1920 and last July a meeting of growers was held in Lexington to vote on the proposition to abandon the 1921 crop. It was stated that labor costs were so high that in order to make the crop pay it would be necessary to do something to keep prices at a level with those of 1912. It was decided at the

HUNDREDS OF LOWELL WOMEN WERE ON HUNGER STRIKE

Had Refused To Eat
Fearing Torture of Stomach Trouble That Usually Follows

A Brighter Life Now Looms
Up Before Them After Taking the Splendid
Toxo Treatment

It was found that hundreds of Lowell women were actually starving themselves rather than eat and suffer the consequences that followed. Their stomachs were so clogged up with waste matter and in such poor condition that no matter what kind of food they would eat, the suffering became unbearable.

Since the wonderful stomach treatment, Toxo, has arrived in Lowell, these same women are improving remarkably and are finding the joy in life that they had heretofore been missing. They have tried the Toxo treatment with huge success. Their appetites have grown and they can now eat almost anything without a thought to whether their stomach will stand it or not.

You will meet these women most anywhere in Lowell. Ask them about this remarkable treatment. If you are bothered with stomach ills, you will find the Toxo treatment for sale at 555 Main Street on Merrimack Street. Just ask for Toxo, the treatment for constipation, indigestion and other stomach ills—Adv.

July meeting, however, that a "cut out" would not be necessary and the Lexington Tobacco Growers' association was formed in an endeavor to work out the problems of the growers through co-operative methods. John W. Newman of Versailles, was elected head of the organization.

When the government estimate of the tobacco crop of Kentucky was made public Dec. 1, growers declared that it was too high, as the leaf would not weigh more than two-thirds of the usual amount. This caused postponement of the opening of the market throughout the white burley, or cigarette tobacco belt, while the growers association and state and federal agricultural department officials took a census of the white burley crop. This report was made on Jan. 23 and showed a production of 338,500,000 lbs. of the cigarette leaf. Officials of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, and field agents of the United States department of agriculture, who had been making a study of the cost of producing and marketing Kentucky tobacco, gave out an estimate of $209 per acre as the cost of producing and marketing the 1920 crop. The estimated production per acre was fixed at 555 pounds, making the estimate cost $36 per hundred.

The Lexington market opened Jan. 3, and other markets on succeeding days, the larger ones on Jan. 4. When growers found that prices all over the district were averaging far below what was claimed to be the cost of production and marketing, the "cut out" movement gained renewed impetus with many new advocates. After the closing of the Lexington market on Jan. 4 for a week and similar action on the part of all other larger markets, growers favoring abandonment of the 1921 crop called a mass meeting at Lexington to decide what action should be taken.

LEGISLATURE IN FAVOR OF TEACHERS

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 14.—The executive council of the American Federation of Teachers, following action taken at the recent convention of the organization held in St. Paul, is launching a nation-wide campaign for better tenure legislation for teachers. State legislatures will be asked to remedy existing conditions relative to the employment and retention of teachers, who believe that injustice lies in the prevailing system. The American Federation of Teachers authorities expect that remedial legislation will go far towards raising the standard of the teaching profession, inasmuch as it will obviate arbitrary dismissal of competent teachers by autocratic boards of education.

"In asking for decent tenure legislation," said Charles B. Stillman, president of the American Federation of Teachers, at Chicago headquarters, "our organization is not animated by any desire to protect the inefficient teacher. In fact, the American Federation of Teachers is interested in providing the machinery by means of which incompetent teachers may be removed from the school system. Far from protecting incompetency, the American Federation of Teachers has come up with a most revolutionary measure for the protection of the public schools, by demanding for its organization professional training as a prerequisite for the chartering of a teacher."

President Stillman said the American Federation of Teachers maintains that tenure should be permanent duty

ing efficiency after the lapse of the probationary period, which should not exceed three years; that all dismissals, both during and after probation, must be for causes definitely embodied in the educational law, such as gross inordination, inefficiency and conduct unbecoming a teacher; and that after the probation period dismissal for any cause, including inefficiency, shall be authorized only by an impartial trial board.

Appeal from the decision of a trial board may be made to the civil courts would also be allowed. The federation officials say they set a cultural wage for teachers and enable them to live according to the requirements of their position, to provide for such hazards of life as illness and old age, to provide for culture recreation and professional improvement, and to maintain self-respect. Barring demanding certain working conditions, they also assert the right of teachers to participate in the administration of the schools and establish the principle that the teachers are entitled to the rights of free expression and the right to organize and to affiliate with such groups as they find significant and deem socially and spiritually sound.

The American Federation of Teachers is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place late Wednesday afternoon when Mr. Everett Bernard, a well known mail carrier, formerly in the employ of Pitts Auto Supply and Miss Bertha Reynolds, a popular young woman of Lawrenceville and formerly employed as a bookkeeper at Putnam & Son, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock at St. Columba's rectory by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Harty. The bride was beautifully attired in a tulle wedding gown with a corset of satin and wore a corsage bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Kathryn Reynolds, who wore a brown duval de laine suit with a satin hat and wore a corsage bouquet of red roses.

"NANCY'S DREAM"

Ishin took the twins to his hut and treated them kindly. He made a warm fire of moss, and when the children finally crept into the warm bed of skins that lay against the wall, they dropped off to sleep and slept until morning while Ishin kept watch. You do what I tell you, you may get them back. Then you and Nickie may continue your journey to the South Pole to get Santa's toys back from the evil Satchel Snatch. The wicked Bobadil Jim will return in the morning to see where you are and what you are doing. Be on the watch for him.

IN THE CENTER OF THE LIGHT NANCY SAW A FAIRY QUEEN.

But Nancy had a dream. At least she thought it was a dream, but really it must have actually happened. How else could certain things have taken place as they did afterward? A bright light appeared to the little girl and in the center of it Nancy saw the smiling features of a beautiful Fairy Queen. "Don't worry," said the queen with an encouraging nod of her head. "I know that you have lost all your charms in the carved box which the Bobadil Jim stole from you, but if you will know when he is near by the smell of hyacinth perfume. As soon as you smell this scent, wave your left arm three times from right to left and say these words: 'Oh, Bobadil Jim, come hither. Whoever you are, or whither, You're going from here to hither.' Instantly he will become visible. The carved box is in his right pocket. Grab it, slip on the Magic Shoes quickly and wish yourselves away.' Then Nancy woke up. (Copyright, 1921, N.E.A.)

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Preparation for the nomination of 15 directors of the chamber of commerce is now being made with the distribution of primary ballots to all members. All nominations must be in by 6 o'clock Tuesday evening Jan. 18. Complete lists of the members of the chamber are sent out with the ballots. Nine are to be chosen and voted for. The eighteen members receiving the highest number of votes will be put on the ballot for election. Election ballots will be mailed to each member. This method of nomination and election is thought the fairest way of giving every member a voice in the government of the chamber. The following six members were elected in Jan., 1920, for a term of two years on the board and should not be voted for this year: Charles N. Holson, Otto Hockmeyer, William N. Goodell, Abel R. Campbell, Edward B. Carney and George U. Fitchburn. Messrs. William A. Mitchell and Arthur T. Safford have served one year, but have requested the members not to vote for them this time.

KICK AGAINST POOR SERVICE

Users of Chelmsford Street Car Line Protest to Home Rule Committee

No Relief for the Present, Answers District Manager Thomas B. Lees

The regular monthly meeting of the home rule committee, held in city hall yesterday afternoon, developed into a 45-minute general talkfest with the conditions of street-car service on the Chelmsford street line as the principal subject of discussion. The discussion started with the presentation of two petitions from people living along the route asking for better service. It ended with the adoption of a resolution instructing the secretary to write a letter to one signer of each petition conveying in effect the information that "the railway company is willing to give good service," but that no change in time tables can be made at the present time.

At a prologue to the Chelmsford street line discussion, Secretary John B. Curtis read the statement of the income and operating expenses of the road for the month of November. The substance of the report has already been printed in The Sun.

Didn't Mean Much

W. H. Durfee said that the document did not seem much to him, and that he thought it would be desirable if a copy of the report could be sent to each member of the committee every month for purposes of comparison. "Charles H. Holston tried to find out from District Manager Thomas B. Lees whether the figures represented the result of operation in the Lowell district alone. He was informed that they did.

"Have you a valuation of the property in Lowell district, alone?" asked Mr. Lees.

"Yes, it is slightly less than $4,000,000, on which we are allowed to charge interest at 5 per cent," replied Mr. Lees.

"What does the item 'maintenance of cars' mean?" queried Mr. Holston.

"It means money expended for repairs of cars, wages, coal, heating—everything connected with the cars along the track," responded Mr. Lees. Mr. Lees explained how the cost of the company is hauled and said that the experiment of bringing coal from Beverly had been given up because, while there might have been a slight saving in the cost of the fuel, it was offset by the wear and tear of the trucks over which it was drawn.

Then Came the Petitions

Then came the two petitions. One was presented by Chairman John B. Sullivan. It was signed with the names of 30 residents along Chelmsford street and in Chelmsford Centre. The other petition was signed by 13 teachers of the Lincoln school, both complained of service on the Chelmsford street line. The one from the school teachers, with the names of the signers, was as follows:

"We, the undersigned, respectfully petition the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway for better service on the Chelmsford street route, as the present schedule prevents us from riding on many occasions."

Signed by D. M. Cummings, Margaret M. Sparks, Irma V. Hodgman, Dorothy F. Flordan, Mary F. O'Neill, Sarah Taff, Margaret G. McDonald, Kathryn H. Fishaven, Isabel W. Ewins, Ellen L. Floyd, etc.

Mr. M. Alice Murphy, Harriet McAloon, Bride T. Sweeney.

Received Many Complaints

In presenting the first petition, Chairman Sullivan said that he had received many complaints of the condition of service along the route. He said the railway company claims it is giving 20-minute service, but that the people have been getting 30 and 40 minute service. One man, he said, waited 42 minutes for a car.

"At certain hours of the day that is true all over the city," said Mr. Holston.

"Yes, that is true, but it is not true of Chelmsford street," asserted Mr. Lees. "The situation in Chelmsford street is that it has always been a hard route to make time on in the rush hours. For 20 years we have had trouble there during rush hours. It is a single-track line, and if one car is delayed, it delays all the others. The service with the one-man cars is not satisfactory to the public or ourselves."

Better On Time Than Freight

Mr. Lees said that the cars had been out to Chelmsford Centre on 40-minute time since December 27, and that the company felt that it was better to have cars run less frequently but have them run on time. He said that a check had been kept on all the cars of the line arriving in Merrimack square the first three days of this week, and that the record showed that there had been but

LOVE MURDER VICTIM

This London dancer, Sophia Taylor, is dead, the victim of a lover's quarrel with Augustus Taylor, an American who shot her and killed himself. She was one of the most popular dancers in London and leaves an estate of $100,000.

Three instances of cars being as much as five minutes late, and that of all of the cars only two or three per cent. were late. "The cars are now making their time," he asserted, "and regularity is better than frequency."

Chairman Sullivan: "What is the proportional earning power of the Chelmsford street line?"

Mr. Lees: "We cannot tell now. In the old days it was a good paying route. I have been trying for ten years to have it double-tracked. I don't know of a line in the city that needs it more."

Held Up the Cars

Mr. Holston told of an altercation which he said a motorman allowed himself to become involved in at Merrimack square, and that at least partly on this account the cars were delayed for 14 minutes.

Rev. N. W. Matthews complained of service on the Gorham street line, which he thought might be due to cars running ahead of time.

Mr. Lees said he had tried to convince employees that in running ahead of time they were running away from the money that paid their wages.

Mr. Matthews asked if it would not be practical to publish the railway's timetables in the newspapers.

Mr. Lees stated that it would cost too much.

Chairman Sullivan said that he wished to go on record in favor of 15-minute time on the Chelmsford street line, at least as far as the city farm.

"If that is a good-paying line," said Mr. Matthews, "I don't see why the people who patronize it should not have 15-minute time as well as on other lines."

"It cannot be done," said Mr. Lees. He said that later, if conditions warranted, 10-minute time might be given during rush hours as far as Jenness street.

Lives to See the Prescription He Wrote in 1892 the Worlds Most Popular Laxative Remedy

DR. W. B. CALDWELL TODAY
Born Shelbyville, Mo., March 21, 1829
Began the manufacture of his famous prescription in 1892

Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, long past Biblical old age, but hale and hearty—Still sees patients daily—Wonderful achievement of a "country doctor."

WHEN I started to practice medicine, back in 1875, there were no pills or tablets or salt waters for the relief of constipation, and no artificial remedies made from coal tar.

The prescription for constipation that I used early in my practice, and which I put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid remedy, and I have never had reason to change it. I intended it for women, children and elderly people, and these need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

I am gratified to say that under successful management my prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that over eight million bottles were sold by druggists last year proves that it has won the confidence of mothers whose chief interest is the health of their children.

It is particularly pleasing to me to know that the biggest half of those eight million bottles were bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for grownups. The price of a bottle holding 50 average treatments is sixty cents; such a bottle will last a family several months.

I have never made a secret of what is in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. These ingredients are endorsed in the U. S.

Pharmacopoeia. I consider Syrup Pepsin today in the serious 82nd year of my age, as I did in 1892, the best remedy a family can have in the house for the safe relief of constipation and its accompanying ills, such as headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and I believe if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

REPORT OF N. H. SUNDAY LAW COMMISSION

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 14.—The report of the New Hampshire Sunday law commission appointed in the administration of Gov. John H. Barrett, has been presented to the legislature.

It points out that the authority of the Jewish Sabbath has not passed to the Christian Sunday and suggests that the basis for Sunday legislation is public health and morals and the provision of a day for religion, leaving the manner of observance to the individual, provided he does not infringe upon the rights of others. This is not the whole ideal of the Sabbath. It is the basis of the civil, not the religious Sabbath. It was the aim of the Sunday law commission to in this state was shown yesterday.

diffuse the principles upon which Sabbath legislation should be based and then to crystallize them into words in an enforceable law. The commission's recommendations are about midway between the rigid rules governing the Puritans and the extreme liberality of the European continental Sunday. In other words, recreation and amateur games should not be in the view of the commission, be prohibited on Sunday, but a law is favored that would prevent undue disturbance on that day and that would put the ban on professional sports.

THE ONE-MAN CAR
Labor Unions Carry Fight Against One-Man-Cars to Legislature—Will Filled in House.

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Jan. 14.—That the labor unions intend to carry into the legislature their fight against the use of one-man cars on street railway lines in this state was shown yesterday.

when a bill to bar such cars from Massachusetts was filed in the house. It is based upon a petition signed by Charles J. Hodson, as legislative counsel for the American Federation of Labor, which represents "that there is necessity for legislation upon the operation upon the street railways of Massachusetts of one-man cars, so-called, and to render unlawful the operation of street railway cars which are not manned by at least one motorman or driver and one conductor."

The bill provides, in section one, that "it shall be unlawful for any street railway company to operate upon any street railway tracks or system any cars for the carriage and transportation of passengers unless said cars shall be manned and operated by a motorman or driver and a conductor."

Section two provides that "any violation of this act shall be punished by a fine of $100 for each offense and any repeated violations of this act may be restrained by injunction upon a bill of complaint filed in the supreme judicial court by ten citizens of the Commonwealth."

Sealdsweet Grapefruit For Kiddies and Grown-Ups

Here is another delightful way to eat grapefruit:

From around the stem end remove the thin rind for about two inches with a sharp knife.

At the end, right in the center of area from which rind has been removed, cut a hole one-half inch across and an inch deep.

There! You have a fountain of delight, from which the juices flow under slight pressure.

Let the kiddies apply their lips and follow the example of the children of Florida, who extract the goodness of grapefruit in this manner. Older people find that grapefruit eaten thusly help to make them young again.

ONE DEATH REPORTED HERE FROM FLU

The first death from the "flu" in Lowell this winter was reported in the board of health office yesterday. There are no other cases of the disease in this city. The last case that came to the notice of the health officials, previous to the one that resulted in yesterday's death, was recorded last July. The measles epidemic continues to show signs of receding. There were only 14 cases of the disease reported yesterday and 7 the day before. The total number of cases reported since last Friday night to last night is 61.

LINEN SHOWER AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Help St. John's hospital by linen contribution and you help the suffering. This opportunity will be afforded you when the annual linen shower in aid of the hospital will be conducted under the auspices of the Ladies of Charity of St. John's hospital. The shower will be held tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 6, and will be a most enjoyable affair. There will be a concert and talent from different theatres will appear. The event will also be in the form of a reception for new members. Refreshments will be served by the reception committee. That the need of linen is badly felt goes without saying. This can readily be understood when one stops to think of the constant wear and tear. Linen is always in use. It is something which a hospital cannot go without. There is always an absolute need for it, for many accident cases are brought to the hospital for attention and this part of the work creates a great demand on the linen supply. Towels and sheets and bandages and other linen pieces in any number are then in use.

Throughout the great establishment can be seen the demands that must be made on the linen presses. The beds, the towels, and other linen required about the sick bed and in the linen room. Thus it is that the supply of linen which comes into the hospital on these occasions conducted by the ladies of charity is a blessing. The money which would have to be expended on linen can be put to some other use, such as medicines, food supplies and a host of other uses. There are plenty of ways in which the money can be used in the upkeep of such an establishment. Owing to the number of cases cared for by the hospital from which there is no financial return, there is a heavy outgo which must be met in some way. The good which has been done and is being done by St. John's hospital cannot be too highly estimated, and to help the institution means to help the suffering. Towels, pillow cases, sheets, and in fact all kinds of linen will be accepted and no special invitation will be issued for the event, as everyone will be cordially welcomed.

TO CLOSE LOCAL ARMY RECRUITING STATION

The army is filling up so quickly now that the men stationed at the army recruiting station in central street expect to receive notice to close office at any time. In that event all enlistments would be closed for an indefinite period.

Practically all units at Camp Jackson, S. C. are now up to authorized strength and enlistments for the medical department including the Fifth Division have been closed, with the exception of general hospitals, such as the Walter Reed, Washington, D. C.; Letterman, San Francisco, and Fitzsimons. Enlistments are still being made for the Seventh Division at Camp Meade, Md., and starting Monday, Jan. 17, enlistments for the infantry, field artillery, medical department, engineers and ordnance units of Camp

Louis, Washington, D. C., will be opened. Field Clerk O'Mara is still on duty at the recruiting station handling all applications of ex-soldiers for Victory medals or service buttons. The number of medals he has distributed in Lowell has just passed the 2000 mark, but there are several hundred service men who have not yet received them. Applications should be made as soon as possible because the office is likely to be closed any day. Legion men should get their medals because they should be worn on all dress occasions.

Advertising slides have been flashed on the screens in some of the local theatres and a number of bulletins have been posted by the local office.

Men who have recently joined the army at the Central street station are as follows: Peter J. Boyle, 32 Mount Vernon street, 5th Division, Camp Jackson; Arthur Payer, 117 Salem street, 5th Division; George A. Beaudette, 289 West Sixth street, 5th Division; Patrick G. Clancy, 21 Ellis court, 5th Division; Roland Kenale, 141 Fletcher street, 5th Division; Henry C. Kelly, 219 East Merrimack street, 5th Division; Rene Archambault, 56 Kinsman street, 5th Division; Arthur J. Beaulieu, 44 Parker street, Lawrence, 9th Infantry, Camp Devens; Clayton B. Stewart, 550 Chelmsford street, 36th Infantry; Joseph M. Mustral, 455 Moody street, 5th Division; Adelard Rochette, 602 Broadway, 38th Division; Eli Rodgers, 8 Salem street, 36th Infantry, Camp Devens.

$250,000 FOR WAR WAIFS RAISED AT DINNER

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The starving waifs of Europe were the invisible guests last night at a dinner in Symphony hall at which 1000 persons sat down to a feast of stew, bread and cocoa, for which they paid $100 a plate. The invisible ones, to feed whom the money will go through the European relief council, were kept immediately in mind by a vacant chair, the only empty one in the hall, on which a lighted taper burned and before which the same dinner which constituted their regular ration was placed.

After the dinner Herbert Hoover, chairman of the relief council, Gov. Cox, President Faneuil of Brown university, and Mayor Peters addressed an audience that had paid fancy prices for balcony seats. It was announced that the dinner added $250,000 to the council funds. Everything, from stew to sugar, was contributed.

NEW OIL WELL. ELIZABETH, Ark., Jan. 14.—Arkansas' first oil well, a gusher, is attracting thousands of persons. This town of 3000 has grown to almost 10,000 and is re-enacting the scenes of early day rushes to oil. The new well is spouting oil, mud and water over the top of the derrick and estimates of the flow range from a few thousand to 30,000 barrels a day. Leases are being assigned for property as far as six miles from the well.

Possibly the calmest man in town is Dr. Sam C. Bussey, an oil man of 15 years' experience in Colombia, Bolivia, Mexico and most of the fields of the United States, who made his first real strike when the gusher blew in Monday.

COMMERCE CHAMBER

Board of Directors Addressed By Representatives of American City Bureau at Noon Today

At a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce this noon, Arthur McMillan, representative of the American city bureau now stationed in Lowell, gave a short address on suggestions in carrying out the work of the local chamber. Mr. McMillan has traveled all over the country and has come in contact with about all the problems which any chamber has to tackle and has noted the methods successful in meeting various conditions. The board also acted upon the new applications for membership received. A meeting of the team captains of the chamber membership drive was held in the Colonial restaurant last night and 25 new applications for membership were received. It was decided at this meeting that the drive would continue for a short time longer to allow for a round-up of individual prospects. Charles W. Holstead and W. N. Goodell, president, made short addresses.

Last Call for Tax Payments

of $35,000, which brought the total up to $15,902.

No Land-Office Rush

The amount of the payments since Wednesday night is not available. According to information coming from the city treasurer's office, however, there has been nothing like a land-office rush to liquidate tax bills either yesterday or today. There was a long line of men stretching from the office out into the corridor this morning, but it was made up of city employees who were taking cash out of the treasury, and there was no corresponding line of persons clamoring to hand money in.

In round figures the city of Lowell is now in a financial hole on account of unpaid taxes to the amount of nearly $50,000. How much of this will ultimately be paid no one is willing to predict. A considerable part of the amount, according to a statement coming from the treasurer's office, represents taxes on property valued at less than $200. Such property cannot be sold by the city to settle tax liens. Some of the amount represents personal and poll taxes.

Most of the large taxpayers of the city, it is stated, have already paid their bills. It is believed that the unpaid bills in many cases are due from persons who have been hard hit by the industrial depression, and that many of them are finding it difficult, if not impossible, to dig up the cash to settle the claims that the city has against them.

Two Years For Redemption

Although after tomorrow the city has the right to sell real estate on which taxes are unpaid at any time, the original owners of estates sold have until Jan. 15, 1923, to redeem their property by paying up for the back charges. It is believed that, therefore, for the tax collector to take any steps toward selling property until well along toward the end of the redemption period.

Not only is the treasurer's office in the bad for a large sum due for 1920 taxes, but also that of this year $212,037 of the 1919 tax is missing. This sum represents both real estate, personal property and poll taxes. On the same date, $15,457 of personal property and poll taxes for 1918 was still due. The real estate account for 1918 is clear; all of the taxes having been collected by the property district of accordance with law. It is announced that the sum due in taxes Jan. 1 this year, was $201,954 larger than the sum due a year ago on the 1919 account.

DO NOT FAIL TO LOOK OVER THE SPECIAL VALUES HERE AS WE MUST HAVE CASH—OUR LOSS IS YOUR GAIN

The total tax levy last year was $664, a rush for a while, $26,769 is due the collector today on account of the delinquency of those persons against whom the $5 charge has been assessed. This is about 20 per cent of the total levy on polls. How much of it can ultimately be collected, no one at city hall ventures to predict. The poll tax payers who fail to be impressed with the repeated calls made upon them to settle up, can, under the law, be committed to jail. It is a fact, though, that commitments in the past have been rare.

10,000 ARRESTS BY DRY AGENTS

Prohibition Agent McCarthy
Submits Annual Report of Activities

Shows Extent of Rum Running, Bootlegging and
Moonshine Traffic

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—The extent of the rum-running, bootlegging and moonshine traffic in New England and New York state during the past year was indicated today in figures compiled for the annual report of William J. McCarthy, supervisor of prohibition enforcement. Seizure of 800 automobiles in which liquor was found in gasoline tanks, spare tires, seat cushions, false radiators, toolboxes or oil pumps, was evidence of the rum-running trade. A collection of 3000 stills of various styles and sizes and a large quantity of home brew products represented the moonshine operations that were suppressed. The total of 10,000 arrests included many for carrying on the bootlegging traffic.

In all $10,000,000 worth of liquor was seized by the enforcement agents who covered the seven states, except New York city. Thousands of bottles of colored liquids bearing forged labels and bogus government tax stamps were confiscated.

The advance summary of Supervisor McCarthy's report says also that 19 breweries and a bonded winery were seized and assessments aggregating $9,900,000 levied against them.

Use Private Parlor Cars
WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 14.—Private parlor cars from Montreal, chartered by rum-runners, have brought carloads of whiskey to secluded spots along the Ontario border for illicit sale, the police learned today. Some of Windsor's most prominent citizens are said to be implicated in the transactions, which the police say have been carried on through the connivance of railway employees.

Booze Worth $3,000,000 Gone
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Check of liquors seized by prohibition operatives in the last year and held at a government warehouse here, disclosed that more than $3,000,000 worth of whiskey is missing. Frank P. Richardson, prohibition commissioner, announced today it evidently was stolen before he took office, he said.

At one time 800 barrels of whiskey were removed from the warehouse in daylight, he says, and the day before he assumed office 13 truckloads were hauled out while prohibition agents supposed to be on guard were inside the warehouse playing cards.

The missing whiskey totals more than 400,000 gallons.

John Aardema of Ellsworth, Mich., walked from Chicago, Ill., to Petoskey, Mich., in 11 days.

What Caused the Present Slack Times?

Lack of buying. Did you ever stop to realize that we are all depending on one another—and that when you stop buying you do just so much to put yourself out of a job? If you buy what someone else is paid to make, someone else will buy what you make, and all will be profitably employed. Each one must do his share toward a normal adjustment and we are doing ours, selling goods at cost or less.

FUNERALS

SHIRLEY—The funeral services of Shirley L. Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ellis, were held at the home of her parents, 6 Mason avenue, North Billerica, yesterday afternoon. Rev. C. H. Ellis of Chelmsford Centre and Rev. J. J. Armstrong, pastor of the Baptist church of North Billerica, officiating. The flowers were beautiful. Burial was in the family lot in the North cemetery where the communal services were read by Rev. Mr. Armstrong. The funeral was under the direction of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake.

CLARK—The funeral services of Mrs. Lucy C. Clark were held at the rooms of Hiram C. Brown yesterday afternoon, 187 E. Elm street. Rev. D. D. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church, officiating. Mrs. Margaret Maguire sang "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light." The flowers were beautiful. The bearers were Philip J. Doan, Philip E. Dolan, Frank Dolan and Linwood Pierce, all relatives of the deceased. Burial was in the family lot in Westlawn cemetery where Rev. C. H. Fisher, D.D., read the communal prayers. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Linwood Pierce of Boston under the direction of Undertaker William C. Brown.

SMITH—The funeral of Joseph Smith took place this morning from the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amodeo Archambault & Sons in Middlesex street at 10:30 o'clock. Burial was in the Israel Brotherhood cemetery in Pelham, N. H.

O'Loughlin—The funeral of Frederick Joseph O'Loughlin took place this morning from the home of his parents, 2 rear of 12 South Whipple street, at 8 o'clock and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. William Mahan, O.M.I. The Sanitary choir, under the direction of Mr. John Kelly, sang the Gregorian chant. Mr. Kelly presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings as well as many spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Masters William O'Loughlin, Thomas O'Malley, Frank O'Malley, Daniel O'Connor, John Brady and William Burgoyne. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the communal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

CASSIDY—The funeral of Agnes Sherlock Cassidy took place this morning from the rooms of Undertaker Peter H. Savage at 3:30 o'clock and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Supple. The choir sang the Gregorian mass, Miss Francis Tighe and Mr. Edward Slattery, Jr., sustaining the solos. Mr. Michael Johnson presided at the organ. There were many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. The bearers were James Morris, James Wilm, Aileen E. Joy, Jr., Michael Welch, George Conley and William Campbell. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Dr. Supple read the communal prayers. Undertaker Peter H. Savage in charge of funeral arrangements.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors, who, by their kind deeds and words of condolence, floral and spiritual offerings, helped to make our burden lighter during the sickness and death of Mr. Charles J. McMahon. We assure them that their kindness will never be forgotten.

By his wife,

LAST CALL FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Bills, Not Paid Tomorrow, to Bear Interest Dating Back to October

Largest Sum in History of City Now Due From Property Owners

The last call for the payment of taxes on real estate in Lowell, before the property becomes legally subject to sale for non-payment of municipal charges, comes tomorrow. Persons who have failed to step up to the lion's counter in the city treasurer's office and pass over the cash required to liquidate their tax bills, will not only render their property liable to be advertised for sale, but they will have subjected themselves to the necessity of paying eight percent, on their bills, the interest dating from October 15, last, year.

The amount of taxes unpaid at this time exceeds all records in the history of the city. Wednesday night the amount was $250,000, and it would have been much larger but for the receipt during the day of one payment

15 BUILDINGS BURNED

Fires Believed to Have Been of Incendiary Origin in Madera, Pa.

CLAREFIELD, Pa., Jan. 14.—Fires believed to have been of incendiary origin today destroyed 15 buildings in the business section of Madera, a thriving town in the Allegheny coal district, with a loss estimated at $200,000.

Three companies were summoned from Clariford, Clariford, Clariford and Phillipsburg. Dynamic crews from nearby towns drew up a number of buildings in the path of the flames.

Among the buildings destroyed was that occupied by the Madera Times, two motion picture theatres and the Williams hotel.

FINED FOR CARRYING DANGEROUS WEAPONS

Arthur J. Benavente, charged with carrying a loaded pistol, and Walter Janice, charged with carrying a dagger, both of Pawtucket, R. I., were found guilty in court today and ordered to pay fines of $100 each. Declaring their inability to pay, they were committed to the house of correction for terms of three months.

Both were arrested about two weeks ago by Officer Charles Sharkey in the South common about 4 o'clock in the morning. Because of the hold-ups occurring at that time it was at first thought that they might have been implicated in some way and the police carried out a thorough investigation. Word was sent to Pawtucket and information received from the police of that section showed that they had no police card records to that effect.

Benavente admitted that he paid $25 for the automobile which he carried only a short time before being arrested. One hundred dollars is the minimum fine for guilt in carrying dangerous weapons without a permit.

COSTLY TO BE MAYOR

Thompson Says His Expenses Have Been Greater Than His Salary

Being mayor of Lowell is no job for a poor man, according to a statement made by Mayor Henry D. Thompson today. He says that the expense of standing with maintaining the office is so large that it keeps a chief executive scratching to make both ends meet. In his own case, the mayor says, he has spent more money during his term of office than he has received from the city. An inference from the mayor's remarks is that while the honors of his office may be well worth having, the cash emoluments are lacking.

The mayor's statement was made when he was questioned regarding his alleged recent "take-back-your-gold-ispurn it" act staged before a group

LEAGUE CAUSES
ROW AT HEARING

Bobs Up Unexpectedly During Discussion of World Disarmament

Broke During Examination of Dr. Wiley Before House Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Bobbing up unexpectedly, the League of Nations caused a row today in the house foreign affairs committee during a hearing on world disarmament at which representatives of the Woman's Peace society appeared. It broke during examination of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, after Representative Flood, of Virginia, ranking democrat on the committee, had asked how congress should proceed when the treaty of Versailles, which provided a plan for disarmament, had been rejected.

A declaration by Dr. Wiley that he had been trying for two years to understand the league covenant brought from Mr. Flood the statement that this was a commission of ignorance and that he was not a fit witness.

"I was for the league at first," said Dr. Wiley, answering a direct inquiry, "but as I got acquainted with it, my views changed. If I had voted in November there would have been one more to add to the 1,000,000 majority for Harding."

Representative Connolly of Texas suggested that inasmuch as President Wilson had been trying for years to have great war machinery reduced it might be best to leave the whole question to president-elect Harding.

"I see no propriety in asking President Wilson to invite the nations to participate in a conference," Dr. Wiley said. "He asked us to do something we did not want to do, and I don't see why we shouldn't return the compliment."

The witness added, however, that it was not the purpose of the society to embarrass Mr. Wilson.

Chairman Porter finally shifted the discussion into other channels.

Mrs. Henry Villard of New York, daughter of William Lloyd Garrison, headed the delegation which spoke in favor of the resolution. Representative Brooks, republican, Illinois, proposing to authorize the president to invite the big powers to meet in this country for discussion of disarmament.

King Augustus III of Poland had 1500 wives to wear.

Churches and Clergymen Object of British Outrages, Says O'Callaghan

Declares Fr. Griffin Killed Because of Receiving Invitation to Testify Here

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Catholic churches, convents, parochial schools and priests themselves are objects of constant outrages by British crown forces. In Ireland, Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, declared today in continuing his statement before the commission of the committee of 100 investigating conditions in Ireland.

Father Griffin of Galway, he declared, had been killed "undoubtedly because he was known to have received an invitation from the American commission to testify here."

Father MacSwiney of Cork, he said, was taken from a tramcar on Dec. 15, and ordered to write: "To hell with the pope." Refusing, the lord mayor added, the priest was practically stripped of his clothing and then beaten.

The lord mayor said there was constant mistreatment of women despite the usual belief they were "immune from indignities committed by British forces." He gave names and dates of some dozen alleged instances of the killings of women, and also told of women being driven from their homes in night clothing without shoes.

In one case, he said, a woman was held kneeling in a ditch of water in an effort to extract information from her.

Previous to the big fire in Cork, numerous efforts were made to burn the city hall and other buildings, the lord mayor said, especially those thought to have been used by Sinn Fein clubs.

Warnings worded very much like notices sent by the Germans preceding the destruction of Louvain, he said, were received by citizens before the burnings. Copies of the notices presented to the commission read:

"It is extremely dangerous to be living on your premises at present."

In winding up his two days of testimony, the lord mayor asked permission to deliver a message from the Irish people to the people of America.

"The Irish people," he said, "have done everything to show that they desire and deserve independence. They have elected a representative government, have recognized their commercial needs and obligations, and have conducted their affairs in a businesslike manner in spite of all difficulties."

"We have achieved much, but how much more would we have achieved had we been free."

"Ireland has shown more unanimity than any other independent nation ever showed at the beginning of its fight for freedom."

"If America and the other free nations of the earth force Ireland to realize that the pledges made during the war, for which men died on the fields of Flanders, were humbug, as England already has forced Ireland to see, we will be annihilated but with the knowledge that we have fought a noble fight. We will continue the fight, be the result what it may."

NAVAL AIRMEN
ARE BACK HOME

Lieuts. Kloor, Farrell and Hinton Welcomed by New York Crowds

Principals in Clash at Mattice Walk Together Amid Cheers

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Lieuts. Kloor, Farrell and Hinton, naval balloonists, arrived at the Pennsylvania station today, a month after they had landed near Moose Factory, Ont., following a balloon flight from the Rockaway naval air station.

Lieut. Farrell was accompanied by Mrs. Farrell, who had left New York to meet him. Relatives, naval officers and business men from Rockaway greeted the party. The officers were taken to a hotel, where they were guests at a luncheon given by Rockaway residents.

The balloonists declared they were none the worse for their adventure.

On their way to the hotel through an underground passage from the station, the crowd cheered for Farrell, who was the center of interest. Then a cheer went up for Hinton.

Farrell and Hinton, who engaged in a personal encounter upon their arrival at Mattice, walked close together and smiled at each other, while photographers cranked their machines.

Lieut. Hinton also was accompanied by his wife when he left the train. Mrs. Farrell and Mrs. Hinton had left the city together to greet their husbands.

At the hotel hundreds formed in line to shake the officers' hands.

Lieut. Farrell said that there was nothing heroic in what the balloonists had done. He did not consider that they had accomplished anything like a stupendous feat.

"It was strenuous duty," he said, "but nothing more than what might be expected any time by a man in service."

He told of hearing imaginary sounds while lost in the woods. He described the experience as similar to that of a man lost in a desert who sees a mirage.

Mrs. Alexandria Flowerston, Lieut. Kloor's fiancée, met him upon his arrival.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The Russian soviet bureau here today denied that "L. Karpoff" reported in dispatches from Russia as having died recently, was Nikolai Lenin, Russian soviet premier.

After Firing Practice Shots at Cat, Man Forces Wife to Become Target

Despite 12 Bullet Wounds Woman Said to Have Chance of Recovery

MUSKOGON, Mich., Jan. 14.—After several practice shots at the family cat, Irving Morton today forced his wife to become his target and spent 30 minutes in firing 12 shots into her body. Then he turned the rifle on himself and fired once, dying instantly.

Despite the 12 bullet wounds, Mrs. Morton has a chance of recovery, physicians said.

According to statements made to the police by the wounded woman, Morton was intoxicated.

HUB BANKER ARRESTED

Charged With Assault With Intent to Kill After Scrimmage in Bank

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Nicola Scaraffa, a private banker in the North End district, whose place was closed recently by the attorney general, was arrested today charged with assault with intent to kill after a scrimmage in the offices of the Tremont Trust Co. Benjamin H. Swig, treasurer of the trust company, complained that Scaraffa, at the point of a revolver, demanded $50,000. He said him at once. Julius Shapiro, a clerk, jumped on him and wrenched the weapon from his hand with Treasurer Swig's assistance.

N. Y. BUILDINGS ARE GUARDED

Public Buildings, Churches, Homes and Factories Under Rigid Guard

Order to Mobilize Forces a Precautionary Measure Against Bombers

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Public buildings, churches, public utility plants and homes of wealthy citizens throughout the city, were under heavy guard today by order of the police as a precautionary measure against radical demonstrations.

Police officials were extremely reticent concerning the order given verbally last night to the entire force, but they intimated it was prompted by federal authority.

Supporting the belief that the order was the result of federal stimulus was the fact that William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, made the rounds last night giving instructions to the police and detectives stationed at various posts. "He's out on duty with his men," was the gist of the sole comment of subordinates in his office.

Plain clothes detectives and uniformed patrolmen working in relays, were on sentinel duty all night.

Special attention was given to protection of the homes of John B. Rockefeller, J. P. Morgan, Charles M. Schwab, Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, Mayor John F. Hylan and other citizens along Fifth avenue and in other fashionable residential districts.

Other cordons of guards were kept on duty at St. Patrick's cathedral, the stock exchange, the criminal courts building, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, city hall, the federal building, all railroad stations, the postoffice building and sub-stations, electric light plants and other public utility structures.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM

"Mats" Score Big Success
in Presentation of "Folies
and Frolics of 1921"

"Folies and Frolics of 1921" was presented by the Lowell Temperance Institute in Association with the Lowell High School last evening before a capacity audience. A great tribute was paid to the "Mats" by the large crowd in attendance, for the hall was crowded to the doors. Because of the large number who were unable to gain admittance to the hall the Mats have decided to repeat the show in the Opera House, Jan. 23. The program comprised a variety of the popular hits of the 1920 season and the jokes by the end men were original and striking.

The chorus of 50 voices was about the most impressive feature of the show and gave evidence of long preparation under good training. The individual entertainers included some of Lowell's most popular amateurs who had prepared special numbers for the occasion. The specialty by Walker and McGrath, two Lowell boys, was a decided hit.

Their dancing and comic songs were what is usually seen in professional productions, while the presentation of the Devine Sisters in two pleasing numbers showed their ability as versatile entertainers. J. Eugene Mullin's end song, preceded by a comic discussion about a singing contest he had for an Ingersoll watch, kept the audience in laughs and had to be repeated in encore. The Dion sisters were very pleasing in a new and professional number specially prepared by them, while Miss Alice Dion made another hit with her character singing in the number, "When Maritich Shakes a Shimmy She Won't." The costumes worn in the specialty numbers were very appropriate and those worn by the end men served to make their parts only more effective.

"The Girl of My Dreams" by John

F. Roane, Jr., assisted by Martin H. Maguire and Miss Sadie Sheehan was perhaps the sweetest song of the evening.

Miss Florence Hague was heard to splendid advantage in "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," and Charles J. Keyes who "pulled off" a couple of good ones as an end man also made a hit in his musical numbers. Patrick Maguire and Matthew Ryan put over several good jokes and were well applauded in their end songs.

Much of the credit for the success of the affair must go to the officers and to the infinite pains and ability of the following: John J. Townsend, musical director; Bernard H. Roule, stage director; Paul J. Angelo, accompanist; John M. Sharkey, interpreter; Miss Sadie Sheehan and Patrick Maguire, song; "You're Born a Little Old Pal, Mother of Mine," Miss Sadie Sheehan; and song, "When I See All the Loving They Waste on the Babel," Charles J. Keyes; dancing specialty, Messrs. Walker and McGrath; character song, "When Maritich Shakes a Shimmy She Won't," Miss Alice Dion; song, "The Girl of My Dreams," John F. Roane, Jr., assisted by Miss Sadie Sheehan and Martin H. Maguire; dancing specialty, Devine Sisters; and song, "I've Got the Blues For My Kentucky Home," Matthew A. ## NATHAN HALE COUNCIL

In St. Patrick's school hall last evening a business meeting of the Nathan Hale Council, A. O. U. W., was held with President Peter J. McKenna in the chair. The confirmation of the following delegates recently chosen as representatives in the district council was made: P. J. McKenna, Patrick Treanor, Matthew James, Patrick Sheridan, Miss Nancy Parker, Mrs. Nolan, Mrs. Martin, Miss Anderson, Michael Condon and James O'Sullivan. The next meeting of the council will be at the call of the district organization next Thursday evening.

LECTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Camouflage and Protective Coloration in Birds and Animals will be the subject of the free lecture to be given in high school hall next Wednesday evening by Gerald H. Thayer. This is the first of a series of lectures to be given in the Moses G. Parker course at the high school. Mr. Thayer was very prominent in utilizing the art of camouflage during the war and was prominent in applying the principles of protective coloration to ships, guns and other equipment and also to men. Other lectures are to be given by prominent educators and the promise of Lowell is invited to attend all lectures are being given in accordance with a provision of the late Dr. Parker's will.

The first woman's patriotic society in America, the Society of Colonial Dames of America, was organized in New York City in 1850.

POSSIBILITY OF NEW ACTORS' STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Possibility of a new actors' strike loomed today when members of the producing managers' association were called together to act on a demand of the Actors' Equity association that the producing firm of Lee & J. J. Shubert be dropped from the Managers' Association roll.

The Equity which conducted the actors' strike in 1919, submitted its demand yesterday, basing it on allegations that the Shuberts had been guilty of flagrant and continued violation of the basic agreement of September 8, 1919. It was this agreement which ended the 1919 strike.

Lee Shubert denied the charge of continued violation of the agreement, asserting that it was based on "six or seven dinky little cases" in which he admitted injustice might have been done. It was impossible, he declared, for members of the firm to give personal attention to all minor disputes raised by members of the firm's various theatrical companies.

KING'S COUNSEL IN DUBLIN WOUNDED

LONDON, Jan. 14.—William Maegath, king's counsel in Dublin, was severely wounded when fired upon by a man who forced an entrance into his home early today, says a telegram from that city. He was struck by several bullets. Offices of the Dublin Union were raided by eight members of the crown forces last night and books and documents were seized.

AT THE C.N.M.L.

Recently Elected Officers Installed Last Evening—Entertainment Program and General Good Time

Officers recently elected by the members of the C.N.M.L. were installed at a meeting in the club rooms in Suffolk street last night. An entertainment program was furnished and smokes were passed around during the social hour following the installation.

The officers installed were as follows: President, John F. Murphy, financial secretary, James H. Walsh, recording secretary, Frank O'Neill, marshal, Francis Hession, Rev. Fr. Keenan, Joseph Kilroy, James Lannon, Thomas M. Lynch, John McDermod, Frank McGarrah, James McPhillips, Timothy Bohan, Andrew Smith and Leo P. Whelan, directors. Francis L. Keenan, spiritual director for the organization, acted as the installing officer. After a brief address by Fr. Keenan, President Hession was appointed director of the evening's entertainment.

A mock trial for violation of the club rules was carried out with the following taking part: William Connelley, attorney for complainant; John Murphy and John Conlon, defendants; Patrick Brady, Jr. and John J. Flannery, attorneys for the defendants; Martin Givran and J. Walsh, judges. John Molloy, John Quinn, Patrick McGarrah, Patrick Brady, Paul McLoughlin and John "Doc" Keefe were the solecists of the evening.

John Levesque, "the man with the iron arms" gave an exhibition of juggling and acrobatic stunts. He posed in bronze, paint and went through all kinds of exercises to show his muscles. He juggled a 15 pound dumb-bell in each hand and lifted them up over his head while standing in military position, thus showing the strength of his arms. He lifted a 147 pound man with one hand above his head.

He stated last night that he was willing to bet that he could lift any working plump and dig it on his back and carry it half way across the assembly hall. Levesque is known to have juggled the C.N.M.L. piano before, but he has never given a public exhibition of the stunt. When presented at the C.N.M.L. the stunt is expected to draw a large crowd.

ENTERTAINED EMPLOYEES

The D. L. Page Co. played the part of host to its employees and a few friends last evening. The gathering, which was informal, took place in the dining room of the company and was characterized by a family assembly. Dinner was served in the early evening and this was followed by an entertainment program, those taking part being Miss Mary Twomey, Mrs. Margaret Maguire, Thomas Tobin and Miss Theresa McCarron. The next number on the program was general dancing, which was enjoyed till the wee hours of the morning, buffet luncheon being served during intermission. The evening's program was in charge of the following: Miss Josephine McKeown, Miss Claude M. Ryan, Miss Mary Cox and Miss Anna Emberg.

WILL CLOSE THURSDAY

The Centralville merchants have fallen in line with the other storekeepers of the city and will close their establishments Thursday afternoon. The new closing agreement, which was brought about through the efforts of George O. Perreault, will become effective next week. The merchants of the district feel that their employees are entitled to a half-holiday a week and they ask the cooperation of the public by making orders well in advance so that deliveries may be made Thursday mornings.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, famous New York surgeon, has part of the heart of an embryo chicken, which is still alive and growing.

Notice

All members of HOSIERY WORKERS, Local 1472, are requested to attend their meeting FRIDAY EVENING, Jan. 14, at 7:30 o'clock at 232 Central Street. All workers of the Lawrence Hosiery are requested to attend as business of importance is to come before this meeting.

Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE
Annual Meeting Held Last Evening in College Hall—Recruiting Contest for New Members

About 150 members of St. Joseph's college attended the general meeting of the organization, which was held last evening in the college hall in Merrimack street. Joseph Berenson was elected financial secretary, while Arthur J. Levesque and Edwidge Johnson were elected auditors. These positions being retained by the adoption of an amendment to the by-laws of the alumni.

In the course of the meeting it was announced that a recruiting contest for new members was going along splendidly and that within a few months it was expected the membership of the alumni will be doubled. At the close of the business session a good hour was enjoyed during which there were remarks by President Louis G. Levesque, Jr., Edw. Flannery, principal of the college, Rev. Guillianne O'Brien, C.M.L., chairman of the association; Secretary Arthur H. Giroux and Wolfred P. Calise, an ex-president. There were also entertainment numbers by the Emerson quartet composed of Joseph Harvey, first tenor; Edward Costin, second tenor; Arthur Fowler, baritone and Henri Caruel, bass. Refreshments in the form of ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The committee in charge of the social end of the meeting consisted of W. F. Calise, Jr., chairman; Nephthalie Lendro and Frank Cayer.

ICE CUTTING DELAYED
Although ice cutting has been started in other parts of the state, there will be nothing doing in that line in this district for at least two weeks and then it will depend upon how the weather man behaves. The ice on the ponds in the neighboring towns, according to Miss Martina Gage, manager of the Daniel Gage Co., is about seven inches thick, but a minimum thickness of at least 11 inches is necessary before the company starts harvesting.

COL. LOGAN PRAISES CARE OF DEAD IN FRANCE

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—"I think nothing could have been better done than the care which our government has taken of our honored dead in France," declared Col. Edward L. Logan, who recently returned from a trip to France as one of the committee from this state to inspect the cemeteries. He spoke last night at the V-I club.

"Not only are the cemeteries charmingly located and beautifully laid out but they are cared for in the most tender and painstaking way. The families of those who have fallen may be sure of two things.

"If the body of their dear one remains in France it will lie in a beautiful cemetery and the grave will be faithfully and respectfully cared for.

"If the remains are sent home they may be sure that the body is that of their fallen, for the most exacting solicitude is used by the graves' registration service in identifying bodies for shipment and in cases where there is the least doubt, no remains are sent."

Col. Logan praised in the warmest manner the situation of the cemeteries, especially those at Fere en Tardenois and in the Argonne.

"The only criticism he had to offer was that the Argonne cemetery, where lie the dead of the Argonne drive and which, in time will, in his opinion, become the shrine for American dead in France, is about 10 kilometers from a railroad and consequently rather inaccessible.

First Division Took Credit

After describing his trip covering the ground so familiar to all his audience he touched on the monument erected by the 1st Division at Hatton Chateau commemorating the capture of that town by the 1st Division in the St. Mihiel drive.

"The parish priest," said Col. Logan, "who has a book given him by an American woman for the entry of the names of those American visitors of the town, told me that the 1st Division had put up the monument. It is located just outside the town.

"I carefully explained to the priest that it was the 26th Division which had freed the town from the Germans, not the 1st. He asked me to write the correction in his book. I did so, setting down the details so that all Americans who go there in the future may read the record in the book.

"I don't have to tell you men that it was the 103d which captured Vionville and the 101st which took Hatton Chateau, hours before the 1st Division was anywhere in sight. And that when it did come in from the south it deployed on the plain before us prepared to attack the town."

Covered Once Familiar Ground

As this was the first opportunity for most of the men to hear of present conditions in France, they listened with great interest to Col. Logan's story of how the places, once so familiar to the veterans, had changed and not changed.

"It might interest you to know how the French are rebuilding the ruined areas," said the colonel. "The towns which are least destroyed are the first to be restored and the communities which suffered the least, or not at all, are assessed in proportion for the reconstruction of the damaged towns.

"I saw no evidence of despair or downheartedness among the people of the war areas; on the contrary, they are proceeding about the rebuilding of their homes with energy, resourcefulness and that resolute cheerfulness so characteristic of the French."

He told how the stones of the demolished buildings have been successfully collected and piled by the side of the road, ready when the time comes to be used again in the construction of homes.

Vegetation Covers Harren Wastes

Describing the devastation of the territory of the Chemin des Dames, he stated that all the lifeless, barren devastation of that country had been overgrown by a rank growth of weeds; little had actually been renewed and few people had come back to their old homes, but the new vegetation had hidden the bare and hideous waste of the fields and towns.

The country north of Verdun, where the 26th Division was in line at the armistice, had apparently been untouched since the war ended, according to the colonel. He said he was very sure that his party was first in many months to go up the length of Death Valley to Belleu Woods, and he had to wade through weeds nearly to his neck in order to find the crumbled and mouldering entrance to his P. C. in that sector.

END OF BOOKWORLD?

English Authors and Publishers Alarmed by Decrease of Reading Public

LONDON.—Is the world of books coming to an end? Authors and publishers I have seen here lately are seriously discussing it. Figures given to me by one of them point that way. In 1913 in England there were 12,400 books published. Then, of course, intervened the war, when nothing much was done. In 1919 the number had fallen to 3622. In 1920 the number has not quite touched the 6000 mark.

A famous publisher tells me that out of one hundred manuscripts submitted to publishers the average printed is two. With the exception of such a book as "The Young Visiters," which only proves the rule—it is quite unusual nowadays for any book on any subject to run into many editions.

The publishers agree that this decline is due to a variety of causes, the paper shortage, the rush and hurry of ordinary people who have to work harder for their living, a reduction in the number who have the pleasant leisure for easy fires and comfortable chairs in front of them, which invite long hours of reading. People who used to buy books spend the much smaller sum nowadays devoted to recreation at the movies. It is becoming a rare thing to find clubs and groups of middle class people engaged in a systematic study of modern literature. Frivolity is the cause.

J. M. Dent, the popular fiction publisher is of that opinion. "People want their books to look like chocolate boxes nowadays. They seem to be getting ashamed to admit a real interest in serious reading," he said.

Sir Arthur Spurgeon, managing director of Cassell, was asked what classes of people in England buy books now.

"There is only one class who buy heavily and steadily," he said. "Titled people no longer even pretend to culture. The middle classes are too poor to read or buy. The working class—working men and women, miners, factory workers, agricultural laborers—are the greatest buying public of the world today. The greatest reading class in Great Britain is the Workers' Educational Association, every member of which aims to possess every standard work published, and keeps steadily at it until his ambition is gratified."

Sir Arthur said that it is no unusual thing for a miner in South Wales to put down six guineas (equivalent to $30) for a new edition of a standard dictionary. In a tiny bus head cabin, settlement sixty copies of Wells' "Outline of History" were sold by his agent in four days at $15 a volume. Ten thousand copies of "The World We Live In" were sold in a month to working men in a Lancashire mill town. Books on science and history on religion, politics, economics, have a steadily increasing sale to working men. They average about one thousand six hundred a week in the northern towns of Lancashire and Yorkshire and two thousand in South Wales. Fiction has no sale at all in these circles.

And what of the men who write these standard books? Their story is quite different. The case of H. G. Wells stands by itself and hardly comes under the head of the usual scientific or historical book. But the Hon. John William Fortescue, "The History of the British Army," for example, which is generally regarded as one of the best books on modern warfare in the world today has not even reached its second edition, though it has been rendered its second author a living wage. According to him, the average wages of an English historian is fourteen shillings a week. This is equivalent to about $2.50.

"I should have done better for myself financially," Mr. Fortescue said. "If I had become a private in the line of the British army 20 years ago and remained a private throughout that period without promotion, or extra emoluments or war bonuses!"

And the plight of writers of fiction is no less discouraging. Alec Waugh, the young author of "The Loom of Youth," who had his first literary success at a younger age than any living novelist, has the additional advantage of being a member of a publishing firm as well as a novelist. His opinion today is that unless a novelist can find a special line which he can make his own, there is no hope for him.

"The public can't abide a novelist who shifts about and changes his style," Mr. Waugh said. "If Conrad came ashore, if Pett Ridge went to Paris, if Angela Brazil began to write camp stuff, if Thomas Burke moved to Berkeley Square, their books would fall right down and never pick up again until they made an entirely new public for themselves. The modern fiction writer is expected to turn out a volume a year of his characteristic stuff. If he does, and is content to hash and re-hash his stock properties, he may make a living; but then he must always be prepared for a sudden rise in public taste which will sweep him and his period completely to sea."

Mrs. Belle Lowndes, a dainty little motherly woman whose French blood shows in the cut and exquisite material of her always black attire, is of about the same opinion. The real literary plums are likely to fall to those novelists who get hold of some elemental quality and confine themselves to showing its development under various conditions.

"Crime," she said, "is alluring to good and virtuous people. They love crime stories because it rests them to read of the doings of another world. It takes them out of the monotonous humdrum routine which surrounds the conscientious and devoted citizen."

All the same, the end of the book world is going to come unless things take another turn. And perhaps they will. There is going to be no lack of effort on the part of publishers, and even authors are to be called in to help to sell their own wares. One of the big department stores has engaged several novelists and biographers to visit their book department and write their autobiographies.

Among them are Beatrice Harraden, Lucas Malet, Colonel Repington, Pett Ridge, S. B. Warner, the popular cricketer, S. B. Mals, Sir Philip Gibbs, and other stars of smaller magnitudes. Mrs. Asquith may be invited later but at present, I am told, her autobiography is one of the few "best sellers."

McGREGOR LINKS NEARING COMPLETION

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The McGregor Links, a new 18-hole golf course, the officers of which have already taken steps to obtain the 1922 United States open championship golf tournament, is nearing completion. The course, located in the heart of the city, is a fine example of a golf course possessing not only distinctive golfing possibilities, but also an unusual history with respect to its inception, financing and development. The links takes its name from historic Mt. McGregor under whose shadow the course is laid out. It was this southernmost spur of the Adirondack mountains that Gen. Ulysses S. Grant chose as the site for his residence when ill-health overtook him; and it was there he died in 1885.

Work on the links and clubhouse has begun last spring. The course will be playable next June. In constructing the course, an effort was made to combine the successful features of the most noted golf courses of the world. The soil, a sandy loam with rapidly draining qualities which permit a long playing season and which reduce the annoyance of warm casts to a minimum, proved particularly adaptable.

Although nearly 200 miles inland and located among the rolling Adirondack foothills with all the characteristics and golfing problems of a mountain course, it also closely resembles a seaside course. The undulating contour of the terrain is almost exactly like that of the noted seaside links of Scotland. Typical sand dunes dot the country and the wind barriers are like those of courses near salt water.

For beginners and those less expert in the game there has been provided a short course of about 6500 yards. The regular course measures 6400 yards. For championship play there is a third course 6700 yards long. The championship course is approximately 130 yards longer than the famous course at Toledo, where the 1920 open championship was played. The different distances are obtained by the different locations of the tees.

CAPTAIN DAVIS DEAD
GLOUCESTER, Jan. 14.—Captain Edgar Davis of the coasting schooner "Eugenia" died of heart disease while furling the sails of his craft in the face of a snow squall off Thatcher's island. His two-man crew, John Foren and P. J. Phillips, swung the schooner about for this port and reported the death of the captain.

GERMAN MARK OPERATIONS

Two Men Arraigned at Worcester and Held in $2000 Each

Accused of Conspiracy to Steal and Violation of Anti-Bucketshop Law

WORCESTER, Jan. 14.—Nathaniel P. Goldman and Abraham Horowitz, both of Boston, were arraigned here today on charges of conspiracy to commit bucketshop law as a result of transactions in German marks. They were held in $2000 each for a hearing Jan. 21.

The police charge that none of those who purchased options on marks from a company operated by the defendants had any chance of win as the company did not buy marks to cover the options.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Atty. Gen. Allen today said he believed two distinct plans have been conducting German mark operations in this state in which $500,000 has been invested. The average investment has been $100.

The operation of the scheme was described by Asst. Atty. Gen. Hurwitz in connection with the arrest in Worcester today of two persons connected with the bucketshop Campbell Co. Ltd.

He said the plan was pursued by a combination of companies with agents in Providence, R. I., New Bedford and other cities.

Options ran for about six months within which time customers could add to initial payments enough money to complete the purchase. Before the period expired, however, according to Mr. Hurwitz, the office of the company was moved. Investigation by the attorney general's department showed that just before the time limit a letter was sent by the company from Worcester, telling customers that the deal could be completed at half the original price, if funds were forwarded before time expired. Letters, however, always arrived too late to permit customers to conclude the transaction and with the expiration of the option period they lost all they had invested.

Another arrest in connection with the investigation was made here today when A. Gardner Bostad was charged with larceny of $50 from Joseph J. Phinney of Somerville, who complained that when he sought to complete the option he held he found the office here closed.

A Startling Discovery For Rheumatism

THE FORMULA OF A NEW JERSEY DOCTOR.

Druggists Have Secured the Remarkable Preparation and Are Authorized to Sell it on 10 Days Trial. Try It!

The discovery of CAMPHOROLE has opened a great deal of interest among the doctors, who report the wonderful results obtained. CAMPHOROLE represents the theory of inflammation, swelling and burning up of the diseased joints. It reduces inflammation and drives out pain. ## HUNDREDS OF LOWELL WOMEN WERE ON HUNGER STRIKE

Had Refused To Eat Fearing Torture of Stomach Trouble That Usually Follows

A Brighter Life Now Looms Up Before Them After Taking the Splendid Toxo Treatment

It was found that hundreds of Lowell women were actually starving themselves rather than eat and suffer the consequences that followed. Their stomachs were so clogged up with waste matter and in such poor condition that no matter what kind of food that they would eat, the suffering became unbearable.

Since the wonderful stomach treatment, Toxo, has arrived in Lowell, these same women are improving remarkably and are finding the joy in life that they had heretofore been missing. They have tried the Toxo treatment with huge success. Their appetite has grown and they can now eat anything without a thought as to whether their stomach will stand it or not.

You will meet these women most anywhere in Lowell. Ask them about this remarkable treatment. If you are bothered with stomach ills, you will find the Toxo treatment for sale at Druggists, or on Merrimack street, just ask for Toxo, the treatment for constipation, indigestion and other stomach ills.—Adv.

APPLICATIONS FOR RELIEF CONTINUE

Applications for relief continue to be made to the city overseers of the poor in large numbers. During a large part of every day there is a long line of applicants waiting in the office in city hall. The employees of the department are working night and day to relieve distress. Despite the high increase in the number of demands for help, there are only ten more inmates at the city hospital at this time than there were a year ago. The largest number recorded is 521.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY. The publishers of the city directory, Sampson & Murdock company, announce the completion of their canvass for the new directory. Any who have moved since the canvasser called, or who fear they may have been overlooked, should send their names, with present and previous addresses, to the book and stationery store of G. C. Trice & Son, 106 Merrimack street, who will forward all matter intended for the publishers of the City Directory.

HELD LADIES' NIGHT. The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church conducted a successful ladies' night in the assembly hall of the Sacred Heart parochial school last evening. The affair, which was largely attended, was given for the benefit of the fund-raising drive, which will be staged early in February under the auspices of the society. Entertainment numbers and concert selections were given, while Charles Madison and partner gave an enjoyable dance exhibition. General dancing was started in the early part of the evening and continued till a reasonable hour.

WILLIAM H. BENT DEAD

Was Leading Figure For Many Years in Manufacturing Life of State—Aged 82

TAUNTON, Jan. 14.—William H. Bent, one of the leading figures for many years in the manufacturing life of the state, died yesterday at his home here, aged 82. He was born in Cambridge, coming to Taunton at the age of 17 and being identified nearly ever since with the Manton Machine works, for many years as treasurer. He was connected with many other enterprises in this and other cities.

LEGISLATURE IN FAVOR OF TEACHERS

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 14.—The executive council of the American Federation of Teachers, following action taken at the recent convention of the organization held in St. Paul, is launching a nation-wide campaign for better tenure legislation for teachers. State legislatures will be asked to remedy existing conditions relative to the employment and retention of teachers, who believe that injustice lies in the prevailing system. The American Federation of Teachers authorities assert that remedial legislation will go far towards raising the standard of the teaching profession, inasmuch as it will oblige arbitrary dismissal of competent teachers by autocratic boards of education.

"In asking for decent tenure legislation," said Charles H. Stillman, president of the American Federation of Teachers at Chicago headquarters, "our organization is not animated by any desire to protect the inefficient teacher. In fact, the American Federation of Teachers is interested in providing the machinery by means of which incompetent teachers may be removed from the school system. Far from protecting incompetency, the American Federation of Teachers has gone on record in a most revolutionary measure for the protection of the public schools by demanding for its organization professional training as a prerequisite for the chartering of a teacher."

President Stillman said the American Federation of Teachers maintains that tenure should be permanent during efficiency after the lapse of the probationary period, which should not exceed three years; that all dismissals, both during and after probation, must be for causes definitely embodied in the educational law, such as gross insubordination, inefficiency and conduct unbecoming a teacher; and that after the probation period dismissal for any cause, including inefficiency, shall be authorized only by an impartial trial board.

Appeal from the decision of a trial board may be made to the civil courts, would also be allowed.

The federation officials say they set a cultural wage for teachers and explain that this is a wage which will enable them to live according to the requirements of their position, to provide for such hazards of life as illness and old age, to provide for children.

recognition and professional improvement, and to maintain self-respect.

Beside demanding certain working conditions, they also assert the right of teachers to participate in the administration of the schools and establish the principle that the teachers are entitled to the rights of free expression and the right to organize and to affiliate with such groups as they find prudent and deem socially and spiritually sound.

quest of roses. The best man was Mr. Albert Bennett. At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride, 174 Fourth avenue, followed by a reception. Present at the festivities were guests from Manchester and Nashua, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left later in the evening on a honeymoon trip to New York. After February 1 they will be at home to their friends at 174 Fourth avenue.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place last Wednesday afternoon when Mr. Edward Bernard, a well known mail carrier, formerly in the employ of Putnam Supply and Mils, Bertha Reynolds, a popular young woman of Lowell, and formerly employed as a bookkeeper at Putnam & Son, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock at St. Edmund's rectory by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Haney. The bride was beautifully attired in a white modern traveling suit with a white lace and were a orange bouquet. The groom was attended by his sister, Miss Kathryn Reynolds, who gave a brown and white salt with the bride and a orange bouquet.

BOYCOTT PLATFORM FORMED IN INDIA

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—According to advices received by the India information bureau, the movement for non-cooperation with the British government in India is being developed in the boycott of government-supported colleges and schools. The withdrawal of children from all educational institutions which receive government support was one of the planks in the boycott platform formulated by M. K. Gandhi, native leader, and accepted by the country at the special session of the Indian national congress in September last. To date several Indian colleges have declared themselves in sympathy with Gandhi's movement and students have abandoned their classes and set up new colleges.

In Ahmedabad, under the chairmanship of Gandhi, a national college was recently opened. The inaugural ceremony was attended by over 3000 Indian parents and students.

The student movement is not sporadic and fleeting, according to the information reaching the India bureau, but rather a serious attempt at establishing a new national educational system. To consider further the status of the student body in India at the present time of national crisis a conference of college students from all over India has been announced. The appeal which has been issued relative to this conference declares that "it is now high time that the students should assert their corporate existence and decide together the line of action that may be desirable in the best interests of the country."

In the wake of the new movement has come considerable apprehension on the part of the government, followed by measures of repression, as in 1915, the India bureau is informed. Two editors of the Punjab have been arrested, one already convicted. Following the arrests, demonstrations of sympathy took place in Lahore and Amritsar, principal cities of the Punjab, and at public meetings held in these cities resolutions were passed condemning the editors and expressing sympathy for them. A hartal (cessation of business) is also reported to have taken place in both centers. In Calcutta about 125 students of the Madrasah college went out on strike as a protest against the conviction of one of the editors.

WARNINGS OF UPHEAVAL NEAR IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Labor leaders are demanding urgent legislation to solve in some way the problem of unemployment in Great Britain. Warnings have been given of a serious social and industrial upheaval, of some kind of startling "direct action" unless the British government acts promptly.

"If nothing is done within the next six weeks," said J. R. Clynes, member of parliament, the other day to Dr. Macnamara, the minister of labor, in the course of a discussion with labor leaders, "a situation may develop that will threaten the life of the state itself."

There is said to be an ugly temper among many of the 1,000,000 or more unemployed over what they regard as dilatoriness on the part of local and governmental authorities in taking steps to meet the situation adequately. About 100,000 of these idle men are in London.

Homeless and destitute, they have seized about 30 suburban public libraries, baths and assembly halls. From some of these they have been forcibly ejected by the police and this has caused more ill-feeling.

Delegates from employed committees in a score or more of London boroughs have recently formed a central council, which is holding secret meetings at which "direct action" is planned.

What form this "direct action" will take is not divulged by the leaders, who maintain their intention to act independently of the labor party or trades unions; but Dennis Bennett, the chairman of the committee, told The Associated Press representative they will be of a startling nature.

"Seventy-five per cent of the London unemployed are ex-servicemen," Bennett said. "We are not out for loot, but we want work provided at once. Deputations to cabinet ministers result in vague promises and don't help us. Relieving acute distress is by no means our full program. We want to re-shape the relations between capital and labor. Workers of all trades must be admitted to control of enterprises. We propose to make this our main issue, and 2,500,000 workers to adopt this idea. This, we realize, is not attainable without a hard fight, and we are certain there will be a big social upheaval this winter."

MISS LEACH ASSISTED

Dorothy Leach, well known locally as a pianist, most recently as concertist with various entertainments under the Lowell post office American Legion, was the accompanist for the Legion or the Ladies' auxiliary of the entertainers at the Legion installation of officers last Monday night. She played a prominent part in the arrangement and presentation of the program. Through her efforts, the name was omitted from the list of entertainers in the account of the event in Tuesday's papers.

"NANCY'S DREAM"

Ishtu took the twins to his hut and treated them kindly. He made a warm fire of moss, and when the children finally crept into the warm bed of skins that lay against the wall, they dropped off to sleep and slept until morning while Ishtu kept watch.

you do what I tell you, you may get them back. Then you and Nickie may continue your journey to the South Pole to get Santa's toys back from the bad Shlucher Santa. The wicked Bobadil Jinn will return in the morning to a place where you are and what you are doing. Be on the watch for him.

IN THE CENTER OF THE LIGHT NANCY SAW A FAIRY QUEEN.

But Nancy had a dream. At least she thought it was a dream, but really it must have actually happened. How else could certain things have taken place as they did afterward? A bright light appeared to the little girl and in the center of it Nancy saw the smiling features of a beautiful Fairy Queen.

"Don't worry," said the queen with an encouraging nod of her head. "I know that you have lost all your charms in the carved box which the Bobadil Jinn stole from you, but if

Preparation for the nomination of 18 directors of the chamber of commerce is now being made with the distribution of primary ballots to all members. All nominations must be in by 6 o'clock Tuesday evening Jan. 18. Complete lists of the members of the chamber are sent out with the ballots. Nine are to be chosen and voted for. The eighteen members receiving the highest number of votes will be put on the ballot for election. Election ballots will be mailed to each member. This method of nomination and election is thought the fairest way of giving every member a voice in the government of the chamber. The following six members were elected in Jan., 1920, for a term of two years on the board and should not be voted for this year: Charles N. Hobson, Otto Hockmeyer, William N. Goodell, Abel H. Campbell, Edward H. Carney and George C. Fairburn. Messrs. Waltham A. Mitchell and Arthur T. Sanford have served one year, but have requested the members not to vote for them this time.

KICK AGAINST POOR SERVICE

Users of Chelmsford Street
Car Line Protest to Home-
Rule Committee.

No Relief for the Present,
Answers District Manager

Thomas B. Lees

The regular monthly meeting of the home rule committee, held in city hall yesterday afternoon, developed into a 45-minute general talkfest with the conditions of street-car service on the Chelmsford street line as the principal subject of discussion. The discussion started with the presentation of two petitions from people living along the route asking for better service. It ended with the adoption of a resolution instructing the secretary to write a letter to one signer of each petition conveying in effect the information that "the railway company is willing to give good service, but that no change in time tables can be made at the present time."

As a prologue to the Chelmsford street line discussion, Secretary John B. Curtin read the statement of the income and operating expenses of the road for the month of November. The substance of the report has already been printed in The Sun.

Didn't Mean Much

W. H. Durfee said that the document did not seem much to him, and that he thought it would be desirable if a copy of the report could be sent to each member of the committee every month for purposes of comparison.

Charles H. Hobson tried to find out from District Manager Thomas B. Lees whether the figures represented the result of operation in the Lowell district alone. He was informed that they did.

"Have you a valuation of the property in Lowell district, alone?" asked Mr. Hobson.

"Yes, it is slightly less than $4,000,000, on which we are allowed to charge interest at 6 per cent," replied Mr. Lees.

"What does the item 'maintenance of cars' mean?" queried Mr. Hobson.

"It means money expended for repairs of cars, wages, coal, heating, everything connected with the cars above the track," responded Mr. Lees.

Mr. Lees explained how the coal of the company is hauled, and said that the experiment of bringing coal from Beverly had been given up because while there might have been a slight saving in the cost of the fuel, it was offset by the wear and tear of the tracks over which it was drawn.

Then Came the Petitions

Then came the two petitions. One was presented by Chairman John B. Sullivan. It was signed with the names of 80 residents along Chelmsford street and in Chelmsford Centre. The other petition was signed by 13 teachers of the Lincoln school. Both complained of service on the Chelmsford street line. The one from the school teachers, with the names of the signers, was as follows:

"We, the undersigned, respectfully petition the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway for better service on the Chelmsford street route, as the present schedule prevents us from riding on many occasions."

Received Many Complaints

In presenting the first petition, Chairman Sullivan said that he had received many complaints of the condition of service along the route. He said the railway company claims it is giving 20-minute service, but that the people have been getting 30 and 40 minute service. One man, he said, waited 42 minutes for a car.

"At certain hours of the day that is true all over the city," said Mr. Hobson.

"Yes, that is true, but it is not true of Chelmsford street," asserted Mr. Lees. "The situation in Chelmsford street is that it has always been a hard route to make time on in the rush hours. For 20 years we have had trouble there during rush hours. It is a single-track line, and if one car is delayed, it delays all the others. The service with the one-man cars is not satisfactory to the public or ourselves."

Better On Time Than Frequent

Mr. Lees said that the cars had been run to Chelmsford Centre on 40-minute time since December 27, and that the company felt that it was better to have cars run less frequently but have them run on time. He said that a check had been kept on all the cars of the line arriving in Merrimack square the first three days of this week, and that the record showed that there had been but three instances of cars being as much as five minutes late, and that of all of the cars only two or three per cent. were late. "The cars are now making their time," he asserted, "and regularly is better than frequency."

Chairman Sullivan: "What is the proportional earning power of the Chelmsford street line?"

Mr. Lees: "We cannot tell now. In the old days it was a good paying route. I have been trying for ten years to have it double-tracked. I don't know of a line in the city that needs it more."

Held Up the Cars

Mr. Hobson told of an altercation which he said a motorman allowed himself to become involved in at Merrimack square, and that at least partly on this account the cars were delayed for 14 minutes.

Rev. N. W. Matthews complained of service on the Gorham street line, which he thought might be due to cars running ahead of time.

Mr. Lees said he had tried to convince employees that in running ahead of time they were running away from the money that paid their wages.

Mr. Matthews asked if it would not be practical to publish the railway's time-tables in the newspapers.

Mr. Lees stated that it would cost too much.

Chairman Sullivan said that he wished to go on record in favor of 15-minute time on the Chelmsford street line, at least as far as the city farm.

"If that is a good-paying line," said Mr. Matthews, "I don't see why the people who patronize it should not have 15-minute time as well as on other lines."

"It cannot be done," said Mr. Lees.

He said that later, if conditions warrant, 10-minute time might be given during rush hours as far as Jeness street.

THE ONE-MAN CAR

Labor Union Carries Fight Against One-Man-Cars to Legislature—Will Filed in House.

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—That the labor unions intend to carry into the legislature their fight against the use of one-man cars on street railway lines in this state was shown yesterday, when a bill to bar such cars from Massachusetts was filed in the house.

It is based upon a petition signed by Charles J. Hodson, an legislative counsel for the American Federation of Labor which represents that there is necessity for legislation prohibiting the operation upon the street railways of Massachusetts of one-man cars, so-called, and to render unlawful the operation of street railway cars which are not manned by at least one, motorman or driver and one conductor.

The bill provides, in section one, that "it shall be unlawful for any street railway company to operate upon any street railway tracks or system any cars for the carriage and transportation of passengers unless said cars shall be manned and operated by a motorman or driver and a conductor."

Section two provides that "any violation of this act shall be punished by a fine of $100 for each offense and any repeated violations of this act may be restrained by injunction upon a bill of complaint filed in the supreme judicial court by ten citizens of the Commonwealth."

1500 KILLED IN BATTLE

Severe Fighting Between Bedouins and Druses in Syria

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Severe fighting between Bedouins and Druses in Syria is reported in a Cairo despatch. The Druses are said to have lost 1500 killed, but it is asserted the remnants of their forces are preparing for a counter offensive.

The Bedouins are one of the nomadic Arab tribes inhabiting Syria, Arabia and northern Africa. The Druses inhabit the ranges of Lebanon and have for 800 years maintained their independence. This race is warlike and for the most part adhere to a peculiar religious belief which combines the doctrines of the Old Testament and the Christian gospel, the Koran and other faiths of the East.

USING STREET SWEEPERS

The big street railway track sweepers were put to work early this morning prepared to prevent any delay in car service caused by the snow storm. When they were run on all the lines throughout the city, it became necessary to take off a few cars and as a result the traffic was held up or delayed for a few hours on the Lakeview avenue and Westford street lines. Towards noon time, however, the schedules were righted again.

Costly to Be Mayor

of which is the health department in which, it is reported, he said that he would not take a $3000 addition to his salary provided for in a bill "now before the legislature."

The mayor said today that there is no bill of the kind before the general court; or at least that he was not aware that there is. He said, however, that he had heard that some of his friends, or possibly public spirited citizens, who appreciate the fact that the occupant of the mayor's office is not now receiving proper compensation, were talking of introducing such a bill.

The mayor of Lowell is one of the poorest paid municipal chief executives in the state, Mr. Thompson asserts. He says that a couple of years ago bills were introduced in the legislature raising the pay of the mayors of many other cities. Most of them were passed; some of them subject to approval on a referendum to the voters.

About that time, according to the mayor, a bill was introduced to increase the pay of the mayor of Lowell, but he made no effort to have it passed and it met its death at the hands of a committee.

Although there is no bill before the legislature to increase the mayor's salary this year and no information as to be available about anyone's intending to introduce one, Mr. Thompson says that he would not take a salary increase if it were given to him. He says that economic conditions are not such as to justify such an increase, and that he prefers to keep on digging to keep the wolf from the door with the rest of the people.

The fact that he would not take an increase in pay at this time does not alter the mayor's opinion that there should be a much larger salary attached to the office. He thinks the pay should not be lower than that of subordinate city officials.

TYNGSBORO MAN FINED FOR KEEPING LIQUOR

In police court today Winfield Street of Tyngsboro was found guilty of illegal keeping of whiskey by Judge Wright and fined $150. Constable Hott of Tyngsboro recommended that the fine be imposed. The liquor, including many bottles of Old Taylor, Grand and other "ancient" brands, was forfeited.

Strout was summoned to appear in court this morning as a result of a quiet raid on his home about 10:30 o'clock last night by officers Clarke, Winn, Moore, Conney and John Lynch of the local department and Constables Harry F. Holt, James H. Gotham, and Harold E. Hunter of Tyngsboro. The value of the liquor was placed close to $1000.

The whiskey was in bottles packed in suitcases. A considerable quantity of alcohol was contained in this and 16 empty cans and about 1000 empty bottles were found in the dwelling.

It is understood that the Strout home has been under the surveillance of the Tyngsboro police for some time, because of suspicion that a liquor traffic was being carried on. Plans for the raid were made in advance and the Tyngsboro and Lowell officers, in separate automobiles, met at the same time at the house and immediately surrounded it. The liquor was found in a room on the kitchen. Strout claimed that the liquor was left with him by some men. He refused to reveal their names.

THE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU QUESTION

It would not be advisable for the chamber of commerce to establish an employment bureau in an attempt to find work for the large number in this city now idle, according to President Goodrich. He did not doubt that a chamber of commerce employment bureau would be well patronized, but thought that the difficulty would come in placing applicants.

He was of the opinion that the establishment of a chamber bureau would only conflict with present labor employment bureaus in the city and their greatest disadvantage, at this time is getting places for applicants. Hundreds of applications for work are received at the mills every day and these establishments really have their own employment bureaus, he said. If applicants are not received through them, then the chamber bureau can do nothing.

Because the mill and other large establishments in the city have their own employment bureaus or receive applications for work direct, a chamber of commerce bureau would be a competing bureau and receive applications only from unskilled workmen, he concluded.

THE ANNUAL BUDGET

The heads of different departments in city hall have started on the work of assembling figures to be used in connection with the compilation of the annual budget. The mayor, in his annual address, asked that the department speed-up in getting the financial estimates for the year ready. He said that he hoped to have them on the table by February 1. Last year all of the estimates were not in until the last of February. This did not give sufficient time for carefully considering the requirements of the departments as the budget must be submitted to the council and adopted before March 1.

Missing Man Returns Home

BRIDGEWATER, Jan. 14.—Almer T. Jefferson, the Wareham man who mysteriously disappeared in Brockton last Sunday, returned here today to the home of his wife's parents where she has been staying during his absence. Jefferson said he remembers nothing that happened to him until he came to in a Baltimore hotel yesterday. He read of his disappearance in a Boston newspaper, and started for home. His watch and chain and pocketbook were missing when he came to, he declared.

To Jail Strikers in Russia

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The strike situation in Russia has caused the soviet government to take strong remedial measures, it is asserted in a Central News despatch from Helsingfors today. "The government," said the message, "has decreed a warning to all strikers that unless they return to work immediately, they will be imprisoned for from one to five years and their families will be deprived of food cards."

ONE DEATH REPORTED HERE FROM FLU

The first death from the "flu" in Lowell this winter was reported in the board of health office yesterday. There are no other cases of the disease in this city. The last case that came to the notice of the health officials, previous to the one that resulted in yesterday's death, was recorded last July. The measles epidemic continues to show signs of receding. There were only 14 cases of the disease reported yesterday and 7 the day before. The total number of cases reported since last Friday up to last night is 61. Girls in Arkansas and Wisconsin make hats out of shavings.

LANDIS CLOSES CHICAGO SALOONS

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Thirteen places of business with a property value of $1,000,000 yesterday were ordered closed for one year by Federal Judge Landis because the tenants, all saloon keepers, had sold liquor in violation of injunctions restraining them from further violation of liquor laws. The parks of New York city cover an area of about 4500 acres. There are 7,000,000 hunters in the United States, judging from the number of game licenses issued in 1920.

LINEN SHOWER AT ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Help St. John's hospital by linen contribution and you help the suffering. This opportunity will be afforded you when the annual linen shower in aid of the hospital will be conducted under the auspices of the Ladies of Charity of St. John's hospital. The shower will be held tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 6, and will be a most enjoyable affair. There will be a concert and talent from different theatres will appear. The event will also be in the form of a reception for new members. Refreshments will be served by the reception committee. That the need of linen is badly felt goes without saying. This can readily be understood when one stops to think of the constant wear and tear. Linen is always in use. It is something which a hospital cannot go without. There is always an absolute need. For in many accident cases are brought to the hospital for attention and this part of the work creates a great demand on the linen supply. Towels and sheets and bandages and other linen pieces in any number are then in use.

Throughout the great establishment can be seen the demands that must be made on the linen presses. The beds, the towels, and other linen required about the sick bed and in the sick room. Thus it is that the supply of linen which comes into the hospital on these occasions conducted by the Ladies of Charity is a blessing. The money which would have to be expended on linen can be put to some other use, such as medicines, food supplies and a host of other uses. There are plenty of ways in which the money can be used in the upkeep of such an establishment. Owing to the number of cases cared for by the hospital from which there is no financial return, there is a heavy outgo which must be met in some way. The good which has been done and is being done by St. John's hospital cannot be too highly estimated, and to help the institution means to help the suffering. Towels, pillow cases, sheets, and in fact all kinds of linen will be accepted and no special invitation will be issued for the event, as everyone will be cordially welcomed.

TO CLOSE LOCAL ARMY RECRUITING STATION

The army is filling up so quickly now that the men stationed at the army recruiting station in Central street expect to receive notice to close office at any time. In that event all enlistments would be closed for an indefinite period.

Practically all units at Camp Jackson, S. C., are now up to authorized strength and enlistments for the medical department including the Fifth Division have been closed, with the exception of general hospitals, such as the Walter Reed, Washington, D. C.; Letterman, San Francisco, and Fitzsimons. Enlistments are still being made for the Seventh Division at Camp Meade, Md., and starting Monday, Jan. 17, enlistments for the infantry, field artillery, medical department, engineers and ordnance units of camp

Louis, Washington, D. C., will be opened. Field Clerk O'Mara is still on duty at the recruiting station handling all applications of ex-soldiers for Victory medals or service buttons. The number of medals he has distributed in Lowell has just passed the 2000 mark, but there are several hundred service men who have not yet received them. Application should be made as soon as possible because the office is likely to be closed any day. Legion men should get their medals because they should be worn on all dress occasions. Advertising slides have been dashed on the screens in some of the local theatres, and a number of bulletins have been posted by the local office. Men who have recently joined the army at the Central street station are as follows: Peter J. Boyle, 93 Mount Vernon street, 5th Division; Camp Jackson; Arthur Payer, 147 Salem street, 5th Division; George A. Hayes, 269 West Sixth street, 5th Division; Patrick G. Clancy, 27 Mills court, 5th Division; Roland Kenzie, 141 Fletcher street, and Wesley C. Kenzie, same address, 5th Division; Henry C. Kelly, 219 East Merrimack street, 5th Division; Rene Archambault, 86 Kingsman street, 5th Division; Arthur J. Beaulieu, 44 Parker street, Lawrence, 5th Division; Camp Devens; Charles B. Stewart, 550 Chelmsford street, 35th Infantry; Joseph M. Mushral, 195 Moody street, 5th Division; Adelard Hochette, 603 Broadway, 35th Division; Bill Rodgers, 8 Salem street, 35th Infantry, Camp Devens.

$250,000 FOR WAR WAIFS RAISED AT DINNER

HOUSTON, Jan. 14.—The starving war waifs of Europe were the invisible guests last night at dinner in Symphony hall at which 1900 persons socially prominent in this city and state sat down to a meal of stew, bread and cocoa, for which they paid $100 a plate. The invisible ones, to feed whom the money will go through the European relief council, were kept unannounced in mind by a vacant chair, the only empty one in the hall, on which a lighted taper burned and before which the same dinner which constituted their regular ration was placed.

After the dinner Herbert Hoover, chairman of the relief council, Gov. Cox, President Faunce of Brown university, and other guests addressed an audience that had paid fancy prices for balcony seats. It was announced that the dinner added $250,000 to the council funds. Everything, from stew to sugar, was contributed.

NEW OIL WELL.
ELDORADO, Ark., Jan. 14.—Arkansas' first oil well, a gusher, is attracting thousands of persons. This town of 2000 has grown to almost 10,000 and is re-enacting the scenes of early day rushes to other oil fields. The new well is spouting oil, mud and water over the top of the derrick and estimates of the flow range from a few thousand to 20,000 barrels a day. Leases are being signed for property as far as six miles from the well. Possibly the calmest man in town is Dr. Sam T. Busney, an oil man of 18 years' experience in Colombia, Bolivia, Mexico and most of the fields of the United States, who made his first real strike when the gusher blew in Monday.

COMMERCE CHAMBER.
Board of Directors Addressed By Representatives of American City Bureau at Noon Today.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce this noon Arthur McMillan, representative of the American city bureau, addressed the members of the chamber. He discussed the situation in Lowell, made a short address on suggestions in carrying out the work of the local chamber. Mr. McMillan has traveled all over the country and has come in contact with about all the problems which any chamber has to tackle and has noted the methods successful in meeting various conditions. The board also acted upon the new applications for membership received. A meeting of the team captains of the chamber membership drive was held in the Colonial restaurant last night and 25 new applications for membership were received. It was decided at this meeting that the drive would continue for short time longer to allow for a round-up of individual prospects. Charles W. Holstead and W. V. Goodell, president, made short addresses.

Last Call for Tax Payments

of $26,000, which brought the total up to $45,000.

No Land-Office Rush

The amount of the payments since Wednesday night is not available. According to information coming from the city treasurer's office, however, there has been nothing like a land-office rush to liquidate tax bills either yesterday or today. There was a long line of men stretching from the office out into the corridor this morning, but it was made up of city employees who were taking cash out of the treasury and there was no corresponding line of persons clamoring to hand money in.

In round figures the city of Lowell is now in a financial hole on account of unpaid taxes to the amount of nearly $600,000. How much of this will ultimately be paid no one seems willing to predict. A considerable part of the amount, according to a statement coming from the treasurer's office, represents taxes on property valued at less than $200. Such property cannot be sold by the city to settle tax liens. Some of the amount represents personal and poll taxes.

Most of the large taxpayers of the city, it is stated, have paid their bills. It is believed that the unpaid bills in many cases are due from persons who have been hard hit by the industrial depression, and that many of them are finding it difficult, if not impossible, to dig up the cash to settle the claims that the city has against them.

Two Years For Redemption

Although after tomorrow the city has the right to sell real estate on which taxes are unpaid at any time, the original owners of estates sold have until Jan. 15, 1923, to redeem their property by paying up for the back charges. It is the policy of the city, therefore, for the tax collector to take any steps toward selling property until well along toward the end of the redemption period.

Not only is the treasurer's office in the bad for a large sum due for 1922 taxes, but on Jan. 1 of this year $21,037 of the 1912 tax was unpaid. This sum represents both real estate, personal property and poll taxes. On the same date, $15,437 of personal property and poll taxes for 1918 was still due. The real estate account for 1918 is clear; all of the taxes having been collected on the property disposed of in accordance with law. It is announced. The sum due in taxes Jan. 1 this year, was $201,354 larger than the sum due a year ago on the 1918 account.

The total tax levy last year was $664, a rush for a while, $26,769 is due the collector today on account of the delinquency of those persons against whom the $5 charge has been assessed. This is about 20 per cent. of the total levy on polls. How much of it can ultimately be collected, no one at city hall ventures to predict. The poll tax-128 larger than it was in 1919.

Rush Didn't Last

Although the poll taxpayers began to pay their taxes early in the summer, and the cash continued to come in with the repeated calls made upon them to settle up, can, under the law, be committed to jail. It is a fact, though, that commitments in the past have been rare.

SAYS BASKETBALL SLOW PROVIDENCE AND NEW BEDFORD WIN GAMES

One of the star players of the American Roller Polo League in discussing a recent article published in the Sun, written by Pat Page, former University of Chicago basketball coach and now of Butler college, in which the author declares basketball is the game of the future, says that he never saw a roller polo game. "I agree with him in his statement every player to his game," said the polo player, "and I am going to take up some of his duties for basketball and employ them in discussing polo."

"The says in proclaiming the basketball game the greatest, that the spectator sees the game at close range. Very true, but the same applies to roller polo."

"Again, he declares the spirit of play gets into the spectators. After seeing the way the fans rushed toward the field at a recent polo game when the referee called a foul, I can only say that in polo, too, the fans become as excited and enthusiastic as the men engaged in the game."

"More scoring makes more thrills, is another assertion of Pat's. Right again, I'll say, Patrick."

"He says players move faster at basketball than in other sports. Here I disagree with the noted coach. I never that polo players move faster, naturally, because they are on skates. But any other athletes, with the possible exception of ice hockey players. To substantiate my statement, I would like to see the basketball player, or any other man, in fact, cover the distance from the polo cage to the spot as fast as anywhere else as fast as a roller polo player or a roller polo player."

"The basketball enthusiast says 'speed' and 'endurance' are combined with basketball in his game. The same applies to polo."

"Pat also says that 20-minute periods give the basketball players more physical exertion than any other ball game or a dozen baseball games. That may be true," said the poloist, "but three 15-minute polo periods give the players about all the physical exertion they can stand."

"And another reason that I maintain that my game is a good basketball player can be developed in less time than a good polo player. It takes many years of experience to become proficient in polo, while I know of basketball players being sent up the ladder pretty fast. There is much more to polo than to hold the interest of the fans at the fever point that a roller polo battle will furnish."

"The game is slow by roller polo standards. This was never more forcibly demonstrated than at the local rink during the past few weeks when basketball games were played here."

"Several nights," said the poloist, "many fans apparently tired of the roller polo contest, yelled 'bring on the polo teams, we want some action.'"

"But," concluded the polo champion, "I'll agree with Pat, every player to his game."

TRACK MEET AT THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNEX

The first track meet of the Lowell high school schedule will take place in the local annex on Saturday evening, Jan. 22. The Lowell team will meet the regular high school team. Track practice is held Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons and many new candidates have shown up for the good work. The annual meet is expected to be a big drawing card and a large delegation of alumni is expected to compete in the meet. Included in the following stars of former days: Slick, Darling, Lynch, Falls, Sherburne and Landon.

Coach Haggerty, Captain Mac Adams, Red O'Hare, Gus Cahill and Bachman, 12 men from last year's team, besides a number of new men. Among the new candidates William and Forrest in the 1000, Jenkins and Linton in the 600 and Ryan in the 400. They are doing good work at the practice sessions and the school 40 feet in practice Wednesday and so this number is not any longer expected to prove the weakness of the team.

MARTIN-CHANEY

BOUT CALLED OFF

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—The bout between Andy Chaney of Baltimore and Vincent Martin of Boston, scheduled by the Fenway A.A. at Mechanics Building last night, did not take place. Dr. E. E. Keeney, the boxing commissioner's physician, refused to certify Martin, as he had multiple boils and swollen glands.

The club wanted to substitute Chuck Hazz, Jimmy Britt and Olaf or Danny French, but Commissioner Buckley would not allow them to go on as they were either not in Chaney's class or in no condition to box.

The disappointed 2500 fans were told to go to the club's office, 215 Washington street today and get their money back.

OPENING GAMES

IN MAJOR LEAGUES

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Opening games in the major leagues were announced today, although the actual schedules will not be made public until next month. They are:

National League: St. Louis at Chicago; Pittsburgh at Cincinnati; Brooklyn at Boston; New York at Philadelphia.

American League: Chicago at Detroit; Cleveland at St. Louis; Philadelphia at Washington; Boston at New York.

The opening date in both leagues is April 13, and 154 game schedules were agreed upon at the recent meeting of managers.

A stone reproduction of the long-continued race that marked the transcontinental trail in 1919 has recently been erected.

RICHIE MITCHELL

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Heavy London and New York boxing fans will defend his title in Madison Square Garden tonight in a 15 round bout to a decision with Richie Mitchell of Melbourne. The bout will be a real one, as the American manager has turned over to the American manager, who is one of the most enthusiastic workers.

Leonard's share will be $100,000 and Mitchell's $20,000. Every seat has been sold and the total receipts from 11,000 tickets will be $175,000.

The fighters are expected to make the required weight of 155 pounds this afternoon.

The champion is a warm favorite to win, although Mitchell has many backers.

MARY GARDEN

OPERA DIRECTOR

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Appointment of Miss Mary Garden as general director of the Chicago Opera Association.

brought all the rumors of artistic differences which have been circulated to a focus today. The resignation of Gino Marinuzzi, artistic director, because the disputes of the singers gave him "sleepless nights" and Herbert Johnson, executive manager, were accepted when Miss Garden was selected.

Several weeks ago on the eve of Miss Garden's arrival for her opera season, the engagement of Madame Ganna Walska, Polish soprano, to appear in "Zaza" was abruptly cancelled by Mme. Walska's departure for her home in New York.

Dorothy Jordan of New York is another star mentioned in reports of clashes of artistic temperament, which have been attributed various changes in the direction of the company. The prominence of Italian operas in the program also caused dissent.

"I don't believe in a star regime," said Miss Garden in an interview today of her plans. "I believe in making the opera the thing and not the artist. I would have an understudy for every role and if an artist were ill, another would fill the place and there would never be a change of opera, even if all the principals were sick; there is no one indispensable in the world."

"I will give 50 per cent of operas in Italian; 35 in French and 15 in English for the season, until Wagner and other big German composers' works may be presented in the language in which they were written."

"When good opera comes to be written by American and English composers, I would have their work performed in English. Real American opera in English is my most cherished hope."

The new director-general, who will receive no compensation for her additional duties other than her salary as a star, is scheduled to appear tonight in "Mamma Vanna."

1000 ARRESTS BY DRY AGENTS

Prohibition Agent McCarthy
Submits Annual Report of
Activities

Shows Extent of Rum Running, Bootlegging and
Moonshine Traffic

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—The extent of the rum-running, bootlegging and moonshine traffic in New England and New York state during the past year was indicated today in figures compiled for the annual report of William J. McCarthy, supervisor of prohibition enforcement. Seizure of 800 automobiles in which liquor was found in gasoline tanks, spare tires, seat cushions, false radiators, toolboxes or oil pumps, was evidence of the rum-running trade. A collection of 3000 stills of various styles and sizes and a large quantity of home brew products represented the moonshine operations that were suppressed. The total of 10,000 arrests included many for carrying on the bootlegging traffic.

In all $10,000,000 worth of liquor was seized by the enforcement agents who covered the seven states, except New York city. Thousands of bottles of colored liquids bearing forged labels and bogus government tax stamps were confiscated. The advance summary of Supervisor McCarthy's report says also that 19 breweries and a bonded winery were seized and assessments aggregating $2,000,000 levied against them.

Use Private Parlor Cars
WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 14.—Private parlor cars from Montreal, chartered by rum-runners, have brought carloads of whiskey to secluded spots along the Ontario border for illicit sale, the police learned today. Some of Windsor's most prominent citizens are said to be implicated in the transactions, through the police say, have been carried on through the connivance of railway employees.

Booze Worth $3,000,000 Seized
CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Check of liquor seized by prohibition operatives in the last year and held at a government warehouse here, disclosed that more than $3,000,000 worth of whiskey is missing, Frank D. Richardson, prohibition commissioner, announced today. It evidently was stolen before he took office, he said. At one time 100 barrels of whiskey were removed from the warehouse in daylight, he says, and the day before he assumed office 13 truckloads were loaded out while prohibition agents supposed to be on guard were inside the warehouse playing cards. The missing whiskey totals more than 400,000 gallons.

John Aardema of Ellsworth, Mich., walked from Chicago, Ill., to Detroit, Mich., in 11 days.

What Caused the Present Slack Times?

Lack of buying. Did you ever stop to realize that we are all depending on one another—and that when you stop buying you do just so much to put yourself out of a job? If you buy what someone else is paid to make, someone else will buy what you make, and all will be profitably employed. Each one must do his share toward a normal adjustment and we are doing ours, selling goods at cost or less.
